VICE PRESIDENT AT STATE CONVENTION

Says We Are a Government by Parties.

He Points with Pride to Payne-Aldrich Law and Predicts That When Ultimate Consumers Get Acquainted with Its Workings They Will Laud Congressmen Responsible for Its Passage.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 9.—The Republican conservatives at their state convention will adopt a platform dealing entirely with national issues, indorsing President Taft and criticising Republican officeholders not in sympathy with his policies. There will be no indorsements of candidates to be voted on in the Republican primary election, and state candidates and state issues will not figure in this convention. The program was marked by the address of Vice President Sherman, in which he urged party organization as the real tool for the accomplishing of reform. The other speeches of the day were marked by strenuous appeals to the Republicans of the state to stand by the national party organization, and though LaFollette was hardly referred to by name, every address bore the marks of the convention's determination to eliminate him if possible from Wisconsin politics.

The address of Vice President Sherman was in part as follows: "It is not a matter of surprise, that in a country of such vast domain; such wide territorial boundary and with such diversified interests as can be found from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the lakes to the gulf, the members of a great and dominant party should not always be in perfect accord regarding every act of legislation. There must be in the framing of legislation both giving and taking and compromising of conflicting views with a desire to in the end enact such laws as will be the best interest to the greatest number of our people.

Sacrifices Must Be Made.

"Some sacrifices must be made, some retreat must be taken in order that harmony shall prevail, that party solidarity shall always be the greatest test and that progress may always be attained to at least some degree, if not always, in the direction that each individual himself may desire. We have had no better illustration of this than during the passage of the so-called Payne traiff law at the extra session of congress last year.

"We are a government by parties, a government by majorities, and, to an extent at least, a government by compromise, and so I believe, my fellow citizens of Wisconsin, that however we may differ in our views as to some measures of legislation, for the sake of continued prosperity and constant progress, as we study the history of the past and the experiences of our fathers, we shall be liberal in our opinions and find some common ground upon which we, as Republicans, can stand in spite of opposition of those who have been selected to make our laws and our great leader who has been chosen to execute them. I believe when deceit and falsification shall have had their day when the present tariff law is known and understood in detail, when its true effect is realized, there will follow unstinted commendation of our president and those in both houses of congress who have striven to carry out the pledges of the last national platform."

THREE KILLED AND FIVE ARE INJURED

When Iron Mountain Train Is Ditched Near St. Louis.

St Louis, Mo, June 9.—Three persons were killed and five injured, three fatally, early today when Iron Mountain train No. 7, known as the fast mail, running between St. Louis and Texarkana, Arkansas, was derailed and ditched on the outskirts of St. Louis. The dead: Walter E. Douglas, engineer Robert B Sheppard, fireman Jasper F Laster, mail clerk.

The engine and four cars went into the ditch when the engine was derailed by some unknown cause on a double curve. But one passage was injured.

PAULINE IS LOST ENROUTE TO TAFT

White House Cow Goes Astray on Way from Wisconsin.

Washington, June 9. – President Taft may find another grievance against the railroads, and that a serious one. Up to date the White House has not heard a thing about "Pauline Wayne" the perfect cow that has been given to the president by Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin to take the place of "Jessie," the former occupant of the White House stables, who passed away just as summer was budding. It was made public that no word has been received of "Pauline," although she is supposed to have started on her long journey from the Stephenson farm in Wisconsin many days ago.

KING ALFONSO LOSES NERVE

Which Characterizes Earlier Days of Reign.

HAS PRECAUTIONS AGAINST VIOLENCE

The Bomb Outrages Warrant Extreme Care.

Revolutionary Conditions Throughout the Empire Have Unnerved the Youthful Ruler—Widespread Plot for Pan-Latin Republic—Vatican Denies Sending Warning to the King of Spain.

Madrid, June 9.—Accompanying his recent physical breakdown, King Alfonso has suffered a collapse of the wonderful nerve which characterized him during the earlier days of his reign until today court life is seriously interfered with by the elaborate precautions he is taking against violence.

The revolutionary conditions throughout the empire, manifested in almost daily bomb outrages are believd to warran the extreme care taken by Alfonso. Though the Vatican has denied the story that a warning was sent by Cardinal Merry Del Val to Alfonso, and also to King Manuel of Portugal of a widespread plot for a pan-Latin republic, there is no longer much doubt that such a conspiracy exists or that it is backed by powerful interests, probably the European continental Masons.

This organization is wholly different from the Masonic organizations of England and America, the former of which may be expected soon to repudiate the Spanish and Portaguese lodges as they have already done those of France and Italy, on account of their participation in political and religious controversies.

The pan-Latin movement is never expected to become formidable in France or Italy but in Spain and Portugal, where the miserable conditions of the people, and the corruption and inefficiency of the governments is believed to justify hostility to the existing monarchies, there is every likelihood that the conspirators will win popular support and become exceedingly dangerous

CONVICTS HURT IN WIND STORM

Cyclone Plays Havoc in Missouri Penitentiary.

FIVE BUILDINGS GREATLY DAMAGED

A Downpour of Rain Adds to Confusion.

Library, Finest of Its Kind in the United States, Is Wrecked—Factory Catches Fire, but Flames Are Subdued by Prison Brigade—Convicts, in Panic, Pray and Howl and Beat on the Walls.

Jefferson City, Mo, June 9.—Five of the large buildings at the Missouri penitentiary were partly wrecked by a cyclone which struck this city. No convicts were killed, but two were injured. In a freakish way it swept in from the river, unroofed E hall one of the cell buildings, in which there were 800 convicts and six or eight guards. Further on, within the walled inclosure, it twisted the roofs and fire walls from two other large buildings one of them used for the kitchen, dining hall, chapel and library, and the other a factory building.

The electric light wires and the penitentiary lighting plant were put out of commission for three hours. A large force of guards was put to work cleaning up the wreckage and stood guard all night to see that none of the prisoners escaped.

Rain Accompanies Wind.

Accompanying the wind was a heavy downpour of rain. The convicts beat the walls of the cells and some of them prayed aloud and shrieked. The library, one of the best prison collections of books in the United States, is believed to be badly damaged. The damage to the buildings will exceed $20,000.

It was later discovered that the damage at the penitentiary was worse than it first appeared. Nearly all the roof was blown from "A" hall as well as from "E" hall. Five buildings in all were badly damaged. Three were unroofed entire. Fire broke out in the Sullivan saddle tree factory in the prison, but a large force of convicts subdued the flames. Two convicts, who were going to the library when the storm struck, were badly bruised by falling timber, but neither will die.

MAKE CAPITAL OF ROOSEVELT'S TALK

The Conservatives Will Make a New Move Next Monday.

London, June 9. The first move on the part of the conservatives to make capital of Colonel Roosevelt's Guild hall address will be taken next Monday, according to an announcement today by Sir Henry Dalziel that he will ask Foreign Secretary Grey whether the government has lost confidence in Sir Eldon Gorst the British agent and consul general of Egypt.

Dalziel is a Conservative member of parliament, and his query, it is expected, will force the government either to give its approval or disapproval to Gorst's administration, which was inferentially attacked by Roosevelt in the Guild hall speech. The Conservatives insist that Roosevelt's strictures on England's policy in Egypt were well taken, and they wish to bring the question to an issue before the impression created by this speech is effaced.

BOAT TURNS TURTLE AND COAL IS LOST

Fourteen Men Have a Narrow Escape from Death.

Pittsburg, Pa, June 9.—Fourteen men narrowly escaped death here yesterday when the steamer, Henry Lourey, with a heavy tow of coal barges collided with the steamer, Rover, attached to the front of the tow, and caused the latter to turn turtle on the Ohio river near here. Two hundred and forty thousand bushel of coal which went to the bottom has blocked big coal shipments and dynamite will probably be used to clear the channel if dredges are unable to remove the obstruction.

The wreck was caused by the Rover striking a part of a submerged tow which was wrecked, Tuesday, causing the steamer to swerve aside, breaking up the tow, and allowing the Lourey to crash through.

KILLED RETURNING FROM A FUNERAL

When Fast Train Strikes Carriage at Grade Crossing.

Haverstraw, N Y June 9.—Four persons were killed and one woman probably fatally injured when a fast train on the West Shore railroad smashed a carriage at a grade crossing here today. The carriage was returning from a funeral when hit. The dead:

Rev A Romath, pastor of the New City Methodist church; William Beebe, driver, E. W. Ziefied and wife.

The injured woman is Mrs Perry Keesler, of his city.

Eye-witnesses declare that the crossing gates were not lowered, but this is denied by the flagman and the railroad officials. Engineer Johnson was arrested.

A woman thinks she is getting even with a man by making herself miserable.

BALLOTS WILL BE RECOUNTED

Black Renews Attack on the Victory of Dalzell.

THE COMMISSIONERS RECEIVE THE BOXES

Black Alleges Fraud in Some of the Districts.

Claims of the Dalzell People Are Steadily Dropping Until It Is Now Said His Total Will Show Less Than 200 Majority—Dalzell Followers Want a Hearing on the Matter—They Are Aroused.

Pittsburg, June 9. With the allegation that he has found traces of fraud in 65 of the 171 polling districts of the Thirtieth congressional district, Dr R. J. Black, opponent of John Dalzell for the congressional nomination, filed a petition requesting that ballot boxes from these districts be brought into court and opened so that the vote may be recounted. The petition has been *granted and the county commission*ers are already receiving the ballot boxes. Black alleges that fraud in each of the 65 districts named was most open, and that if an honest count be given he will be declared a winner over Dalzell by at least 1,000 votes.

The claims of the Dalzell people have been steadily dropping until it is now said his total will show less than 200 majority by the official count.

The Dalzell people, aroused to the gravity of the case, filed notice that they would ask a hearing before the county commissioners before the opening of the disputed ballot boxes begins. This will probably be granted.

DEATH ENDS HIS DREAM OF FREEDOM

Boston, June 9.—Death today ended the dream of freedom of John Guidberg a Russian stowaway who came into port on the liner, Winifredian. When he learned that he was to be deported, Guidberg and Max Sellig another stowaway, leaped into the harbor and sought to swim ashore. Guidberg could not swim. For three hours Sellig kept him afloat until they were picked up by the United Fruit company's steamer, Greenbriar. Guidberg died. Sellig is in a critical condition.

FIRST PARLIAMENT UNDER NEW KING

The Liberals Make Good Their Promise About Campaign.

London, June 8.—The first parliament under the reign of George the Fifth began today. The Liberals in keeping with their promise made immediately after the death of the late King Edward announced that they were willing to postpone their campaign against the house of lords until the new king becomes more familiar with his duties, but they again insisted that the Conservatives take no advantage of the truce in an effort to win support for the lords.

"It is not believed that the agreement between the factions will last more than two weeks. Each is suspicious of the other, and it is considered inevitable that some of the leaders will take a step that will be considered a breach of the truce and thereby launch the fight.

MANY ASSESSORS ARE INSURGENTS

State Auditor Says They Refuse To Follow New Tax Law.

Columbus, O, June 8.—There are in Ohio, according to the state auditor, a number of "insurgent" local assessors who are refusing to follow the new tax law which provides that all property shall go on the tax duplicates from now on at its "true value in money," or at 100 cents on the dollar. Some of these "insurgents" are following the beaten paths of years gone by, and assessing property as low as thirty cents on the dollar.

This has led Auditor Fullington to address a letter to the quadriennial boards of equalization and review, insisting that they put all property on the duplicates at 100 cents on the dollar.

Democrats Reject Alsdorf.

Newark, O, June 8.—Walter A. Alsdorf of this city was defeated for renomination as state senator from this district at the Democratic senatorial convention held at Idlewilde park. Attorney W. C. Miller of Newark and Mayor W. E. Haas of Delaware were nominated as the joint district's candidates.

THE VATICAN IS ASSAILED

Speakers in the Prussian Diet Want Explanation.

POPE'S ENCYCLICAL CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Declare Pope Abuses Protestant Monarchs.

The Osservatore Romano Says the Holy Father Meant To Combat Errors of Modernists and Had Not Least Intention To Offend the Non-Catholics in Germany—Protest Is Made to Vatican.

Berlin, June 9.—In the Prussian diet today three interpellations were addressed to the government asking what it intended to do in answer to the Pope's recent encyclical regarding the tercentenary celebration of the canonization of Cardinal St Carlo Borromeo, in which today's speakers declared the Pope had abused Protestant monarchs and Protestantism generally.

All the speakers assailed the Vatican and one of them demanded the recall of the Prussian minister at the Vatican.

The official explanation of the encyclical in the Osservatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, fails utterly to clear the situation, according to the anti-Catholic members of the diet. "The holy father in his encyclical," the Osservatore Romano says, "meant to combat errors of the Modernists. He had not the least intention, as is evident from the text of the encyclical, to offend non-Catholics in Germany or their principles."

In reply to the interpellations, Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg says that the Prussian minister at the Vatican had been instructed to protest to the Vatican, and to make it known that not only German Protestants, but the religious and patriotic feeling of Germany as well has been wounded by the encyclical.

The chancellor said the Vatican's reply had not yet been received.

Coat lengths vary a good bit, though most of them are below the hip depth, and a number have novel vest effects.

TO PAY PARR FOR EXPOSURE

What Will Be Fair Reward? Is the Question.

MILLION DOLLARS DECLARE FRIENDS

The Government Is Expected To Be Liberal.

Parr Will Go to Washington Next Week To Discuss the Matter with Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh—Superiors Say Parr Is Most Efficient, Honest and Capable Officer in Service.

New York, June 9.—The report from Washington that Richard Parr, special agent of the customs department, will receive only $100,000 for his work in unearthing the mammoth sugar trust frauds, has met with considerable resentment among Parr's friends here, who declare that between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 would be nearer a fair reward.

The government, they say, recovered several million dollars as the result of Parr's expose, in addition to overthrowing a fraudulent system and thereby saving itself untold millions of dollars in the years to come.

Parr will go to Washington next week to talk the matter over with Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, who is finally to determine the amount to be paid. It is said there is no limit to the amount Parr can be paid, and that MacVeagh is inclined to be liberal. Parr's friends declare $100,000 would not show liberality. Parr himself positively declines to discuss the amount of the reward, though he expressed great satisfaction over the ruling of Attorney General Wickersham, that he alone was entitled to whatever reward is to be paid.

Inside Story.

A former government official who had much to do with the work done by Parr told the United Press today the inside story of Parr's discovery, the circumstances of which hitherto have been closely guarded.

When George B. Cortelyou was secretary of the treasury under President Roosevelt, he was notified in a roundabout way by a man named Walley, a discharged checker at the Havemeyer & Elder docks in Brooklyn, that the government was being defrauded by underweighing of sugar, on which duties were paid. No details of the fraud were laid before Cortelyou.

Collector of Customs Fowler, of the port of New York, was summoned to Washington and ordered to go to work on the case immediately. At a conference between Cortelyou and Fowler, Thomas Cross, a special government agent, was ordered to New York from Buffalo. With Fowler, Cross examined all the government agents in this division and finally hit upon Parr as the most likely official to discover frauds if they really existed. Parr was then given free rein.

Offered Bribe.

He discovered that holes were bored in the stanchions of each of the scales on the Havemeyer & Elder docks, and that through this hole a spring was so manipulated as to make the scale record a weight far lower than the true weight of the sugar placed upon it. Oliver Spitzer, the dock superintendent, has admitted that Parr was offered a large bribe to "forget" it. With Special Agent Brzezinski, Parr unearthed the entire frauds. On the first trial Brzezinski's story was so manifestly different from that of Parr that Brzezinski was dismissed from the service. Single-handed, Parr fought his way to victory, forcing the sugar trust to pay back nearly $4,000,000 in duties, and resulting in the installation of true scales upon the docks.

While the indicted sugar officials were awaiting trial, Parr was offered an additional bribe of $100,000 to "disappear." Parr refused this, as he had refused others and assisted the prosecution.

His superiors say that Parr is a most efficient, capable, honest officer, and there is not one of them who does not hope he will be liberally rewarded.

Killed by Volcano's Fumes.

Rome, June 9.—Jules A. Silon, stated to be a resident of San Francisco, ascended to the crater of Vesuvius, which is again becoming active, and was killed by inhaling the fumes.

TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR SAVING SAVAGES; $10,000,000 TO BE SPENT IN CARRYING GOSPEL TO THE HEATHEN.

Edinburgh, June 4.—The world missionary conference, the largest gathering of Christian missionaries in the world, will be duly opened by the Duke of Argyll June 6. Thousands of delegates from all parts of the world will attend, the United States sending more than 1,000 prominent citizens. William Jennings Bryan, Miss Helen Gould and Seth Low of New York will be among the speakers. The principal topic of discussion will be over plans for sending missionaries among the savage tribes of the world. The conference is held once every ten years and will decide on plans for spending $10,000,000 in the special work of carrying the gospel to all parts of the world. Scenes in Edinburgh and a native of the Philippine islands who has been civilized to the point of wearing a bath robe, are herewith presented.

RECOVERS COIN PAID FOR TITLE

Alice Thaw Demonstrates Ability as Financier.

HEIRESS DRIVES SHARP BARGAIN

She Gets Divorce from Earl of Yarmouth.

While Wedding Guests Wait at Church and Titled Englishman Demands Fortune for the Use of Name, American Girl Has Pittsburg Trust Company Made Trustee for Property Given the Earl.

Pittsburg, June 9—In the courts of Allegheny county representatives of Alice Thaw filed deeds which perhaps mean the last legal proceedings in the ill-fated marriage of Alice to the Earl of Yarmouth. The deeds are those of Alice Cornelia Thaw to a part of her own property, which since April 1903 when she became the Countess of Yarmouth, have been in the name of her husband who has enjoyed the income.

But Alice since she divorced the earl has entered suit for the property which she gave in exchange for the earl's title and her deeds filed here show that she has reclaimed every bit of her property which was in the earl's hands about $500 000 worth of Pittsburg real estate. Of the million which the Thaws are known to have given the earl $500,000 worth of property is missing. It is supposed to have been spent long since.

Thaws Paid For Title

The filing of the deeds was the first public document in admission of the fact that the Thaws paid for the title Alice bore so unhappily for some years. Though held up for $1,000 000 in negotiable bonds and $500,000 in real estate, while her wedding crowd waited at the church Alice Thaw appears to have yet held her head. Her Pittsburg real estate was worth approximately $2 500 000 and she offered him one fifth of this for life. The papers were hurriedly drawn and Miss Thaw who in a few minutes was to become the Countess of Yarmouth insisted that the Fidelity Title and Trust company of Pittsburg and Dennison Lyon become trustees for the earl's property that he at no time could take it out of her hands. This appears to have been the move which enabled Alice Thaw to again step into full possession of her properties.

OBITUARY.

A few days ago two of our old citizens Hiram Paddock and his wife Isabelle passed to the great beyond, within less than a week of one another. Mr Paddock was born April 1 1831 and Mrs Paddock, May 30 1839. He died May 13 1910 and she May 19 1910. His age was, to be exact seventy-nine years and twenty-eight days, her age seventy years eleven months and nineteen days. His passing was after only forty-eight hours of suffering. Hers after many years of illness. They were united in marriage April 15 1860 in Lawrence county, Illinois. To his union were born four children Mrs Dora Miller of Tucson Arizona M L Frank and Elba Paddock of Marion. Four grand children remain. The golden wedding anniversary occurred only a short time before the demise of the elder Paddock. Both were followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. Mr Paddock having united with the M E church many years ago while Mrs Paddock was a member of the First Baptist church. The services of the husband were held at the home of the son Frank, on account of the serious illness of the wife. That of the wife was held at their late home on north Main street. Both rest from their sufferings in the "beautiful city of the dead" in Marion while their spirits are with their Maker awaiting the general resurrection when body and spirit shall be reunited never more to separate where the ages come and go. Rev I P Curtin pastor of the First Baptist church had charge of the funeral services.

BANKER MUST SERVE FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE

Supreme Court Overrules Motion To File Petition in Error.

Cleveland O June 8—The supreme court yesterday decided that L G Walker, president of the defunct South Cleveland Banking company must serve his five-year sentence for contributory perjury.

The court overruled his motion to file a petition in error to the judgement of the circuit court. The court granted a thirty-day stay for the filing of an appeal.

Walker was found guilty of aiding perjury in swearing to false statements as to the bank's condition. The failure of the institution was connected with the excessive loans to the Werner publishing company of Akron. Thousands of laboring men's savings were swallowed up in the bank's failure.

POLICE COURT.

Adolph Bianchi charged with selling tobacco to Walter Ward a fourteen-year-old boy, was given a hearing before the mayor Tuesday morning. The Ward boy took the stand and testified that he did not purchase the package of tobacco from Bianchi, but from another boy that was in the store during Bianchi's absence.

Attorney G E Mouser representing the defendant, then filed a motion to dismiss the defendant as it was conclusive proof that Bianchi was not guilty. City Solicitor Boyd argued that Bianchi should be held liable for the sale. However, it was not proven that the boy making the sale was an authorized agent of Bianchi, and this was the point argued by the attorney for the defendant, the statutes not covering the sale by agent as in liquor cases.

At the conclusion of the arguments Mayor Seiter reserved his decision until 2 o'clock that afternoon.

The defendant appeared before the mayor at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the mayor sustained the motion for dismissal.

A similar case against Bianchi, brought by a companion of the Ward boy has been withdrawn.

Pinks of propriety are nearly always found in the wall-flower bunch.

AGED MAN WANDERS AWAY FROM HOME

W S Oborn, of Blaine Avenue, Is Missing.

NO TRACE AT ALL IS FOUND OF HIM

Tells a Neighbor That He Intends To Go Away, and After Preparing His Granddaughter for School, Keeps His Word—Not Seen Since Friday Morning June 3

After having sent his little granddaughter, S Ila Myers, off to school and after having told the neighbors that he was about to go away W S Oborn aged seventy-six a retired farmer who resides with his daughter Mrs Scott Myers at No 458 Blaine avenue disappeared from his home shortly after 9 o clock, Friday morning and has not been heard from since that time Police officers and others have been notified, and an effort has been made to locate the missing man without avail

When Oborn told his neighbors Mr Carl Case and Mrs Samuel [illegible] Friday morning that he was going to leave home little attention was paid to the matter Friday evening however, when he failed to return home, a thorough search was made

At the time of the mysterious disappearance of the aged man, his daughter Mrs Myers who has been caring for him was in the Marion City hospital near her home where she has been taking treatment The little daughter after staying with her mother at night was prepared for school by her grandfather When Oborn failed to return, neighbors notified Mr Myers who is employed in the shops of the Marion Steam Shovel company who at once began the investigation

"We telephoned to all of the towns around here" said F H Oborn a son of the missing man Saturday "Nobody seems to know anything about him and he is not at the home of any relatives so far as we can learn He could not have left here on a train very well We found his pocketbook with his money and I don t believe he had much loose change with him

Just why Oborn left home puzzles his relatives, who declare that he appeared at all times to be quite contented For some time, however he had been given to grieving for his wife who died last February

Every effort is being made to locate the aged man who it is believed is wandering about in the country

ACKERMAN AND LOWE PIANO BUSINESS IS A FINE ONE

Excellent Business Has Been Done for Ten Months

First Annual Meeting of the Company Held—Same Directors and Officers Retained—Output Is To Be Greatly Increased

The Ackerman & Lowe Piano company held its first annual meeting, Tuesday at its office It has been operating its up-to-date factory about ten months only yet a very fine financial showing was made, and the prospects for the future looks very bright A handsome sum was placed to a surplus account which puts the company in excellent financial condition There was no change made in the management of the company the officers for the ensuing year being George W Newton, president, J Homer Lowe vice president, Alice Ackerman secretary and H Ackerman treasurer and general manager The directorate is composed of the above named officers, together with C Luther Lowe

There have been a number of improvements made during the year at the factory which now contains its own electric light plant The basement has been concreted and a fine water plant has been installed giving water and sanitary closets throughout the building which now makes it strictly up to date in every respect Arrangements were completed whereby improved machinery will be installed this year and everything will be done to facilitate the production of the Ackerman & Lowe piano

The Ackerman & Lowe piano is now handled by a number of the foremost dealers of the country and by its superior tonal quality exquisite case designs and superior material and workmanship throughout it makes lasting and permanent dealers wherever introduced While the business of the year just closed was extremely satisfactory yet arrangements have been made whereby the output is expected to be tripled or quadrupled the next year

QUIGLEY & JOHNSON IS NEW LAW FIRM

Dates Back to Saturday, but Fact Is Not Generally Known

Harry N Quigley one of the best-known lawyers of Marion county and Homer E Johnson, who came to Marion from Madison county in 1907 have formed a partnership, to be known as the law firm of Quigley & Johnson, with offices in the Barnhart block on south Main street

The new partnership was effected last Saturday but the fact did not become public till Wednesday when a pleading bearing the firm name of Quigley & Johnson as attorneys was filed in the common pleas court

That the new firm will be one of the most successful now engaged in practice at the Marion county bar is the prediction of those who are acquainted with the two men

For years Mr Quigley has been a practicing attorney here and he is considered one of the ablest in the local profession

Mr Johnson who has been practicing law since his graduation at the Ohio Northern university at Ada in 1906 has been most successful since locating here He is secretary of the Democratic county central committee

Mr Quigley is a well-known Republican

MISSIONARY WORKERS OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Hold Meetings at the Church Wednesday Afternoon.

TOPICS OF AFTERNOON ARE MOST INTERESTING

Foreign Society Considers Mexico and South America, and Home Topic Is Alaska—A Splendid Supper Is Served by the Ladies of Class C. of the Society

The Home and Foreign Missionary societies, of the First Presbyterian church, held their regular monthly meetings at the church Wednesday afternoon Both meetings were largely attended

The Foreign society met first, Miss Ruth Hummer conducting the devotional exercises After the transaction of the society s business for the month, Mrs W N Hurder, the leader, spoke on the first part of the topic, 'Mexico and South America' She interestingly described the people of Mexico, and told of their work.

Mrs R C Bowdell followed with a well-prepared paper on The School at Saltillo Mrs Hurder then took up the second part of the topic, and described South America in detail She spoke particularly of that country s beautiful cities and the simple life of the South American people

Mrs Frank Q Schro read a letter by Robert E Speer who described very interestingly a visit to Columbia, after which the meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs G H Wright and a song by the society

The Home society meeting followed with a short program the topic of which was 'Alaska' Mrs George M Rourke acted as leader She described a visit she had made with Rev Mr Rourke to Alaska a year ago, speaking at considerable length of the big training school for Indians established at Sitka

Mrs Edward J Munnell read a paper on Great Alaska, after which the business of the month was taken up and disposed of It was decided to hold an ice cream and strawberry social in the basement of the church, Wednesday June 22

A splendid supper was served by the members of class C

The next meetings of the societies will be held the second Wednesday in July.

MAYOR J. G. SEITER SCORED ONCE MORE

Judge Daniel Babst Takes Whack at Him, Thursday,

IN CONNECTION WITH THE O'KEEFFE MATTER

Court Holds That the Evidence in the Case Is Wholly Insufficient To Convict—The Damage Matter of Melvin Jones Against the Hocking Valley To Be Settled.

Scoring Mayor John G Seither because he fined James O Keeffe $200 the maximum amount for violation of the Rose local option law, Judge Daniel Babst in the common pleas court Thursday morning reversed the judgment of the mayor s court on the ground that the evidence was insufficient to convict The case was remanded for retrial

O Keeffe one of the proprietors of a restaurant and soft-drink establishment on north State street, was convicted for selling whisky to one Charles Waldron, May 2[illegible] At his trial before the mayor O Keeffe introduced testimony to prove that he was not at his place of business on the day Waldron claimed to have bought the whisky He was found guilty by the mayor, however on the testimony of the prosecuting witness O Keeffe filed a petition-in-error in the common pleas court

In reversing the mayor Judge Babst held that O Keeffe s conviction was unwarranted by the evidence submitted and voiced his disapproval of the mayor s course in fining Rose law violators the maximum fine in cases of the first offense

The trial of a suit for $10,000 damages against the Hocking Valley Railway company was called in the common pleas court, Thursday with Judge Daniel Babst on the bench The plaintiff is Melvin Jones, administrator of the estate of Roy Jones who died as a result of injuries sustained November 21 1907 when in the employment of the railroad company

The jury was empanelled Thursday morning at 9 o clock and the jurors shortly afterward were taken to view the scene of Jones death That afternoon, however by agreement of counsel, a juror was withdrawn, looking to a settlement

Through Attorneys Crissinger & Guthery W H Hinklin filed a motion for a new trial Thursday in the common pleas court in the suit of the Sulpho Magnetic Springs Sanatorium company against the Assurance Company of America to recover judgment for insurance as a result of the burning of the Sulpho-Magnetic Springs Sanatorium company s buildings at Prospect in 1906 In his motion Dr Hinklin asks that the jury s verdict be set aside for the reason that the court erred in sustaining the defendant s motion to direct a verdict in favor of the Assurance Company of America and against Dr Hinklin The motion further sets up that the court erred in sustaining the defendant s objection to the admission of any evidence or testimony in behalf of Dr Hinklin and in refusing to allow him to introduce any evidence

A suit to recover judgment for $191 42 against the American Express company was begun in the common pleas court Thursday, by Silas J Doyle, through Attorneys Quigley & Johnson In his petition, the plaintiff says that he and C Leon Tiason were engaged as partners in the business of dealing in live and dressed poultry at Caledonia and elsewhere, of which business he afterward became the sole proprietor November 21 1906 the plaintiff alleges he delivered to the defendant company twenty-one barrels of dressed poultry and one coop of live poultry, valued at $4[illegible] 12, to be shipped to New York City By reason of the defendant s neglect, he says, the poultry was worth only $262 70 upon its arrival in New York He therefore asks judgment in the sum of $191 42

A motion for a new trial in the suit of Mary F Decker and others against David Hughes, executor, and others to contest the last will and testament of Evan Hughes, was overruled by Judge Daniel Babst Wednesday afternoon At the trial held before a jury in the common pleas court several weeks ago, the will was set aside on the ground that the decedent was not mentally capable of making such an instrument in which he disinherited several children by his first marriage and left all to Evan Hughes Jr, his son by his second marriage

In the civil action of Marietta Holverstott against Emma Kennedy, and others Judge Babst has granted a writ of partition as prayed for, and Felix Reber Samuel P Hain and John Richards are appointed commissioners

The matter of the Sulpho-Magnetic Springs Sanatorium company against the Assurance Company of America was tried before a jury, with Judge Daniel Babst, of Crestline on the bench in the common pleas court Wednesday Dr W H Hinklin as beneficiary under the policy sought to obtain judgment for $2,000, the amount of the insurance, as a result of a fire at Prospect in 1906

The court ordered the jury to return a verdict for the defendant

In his address to the court, before the presentation of evidence, Attorney F J Cole, of Cincinnati, who, with Attorney Fred W Warner, of this city represented the defendant company claimed that the contract made the Sulpho-Magnetic Springs Sanitorium company the beneficiary and not Dr Hinklin He contended that the latter was out of court and cited authorities to substantiate his contention

Attorneys Fred P Guthery and Harry N Quigley, counsel for Dr Hinklin averred that Dr Hinklin was entitled to the insurance and maintained that the terms of the policy made him such, intimating that the defendant was seeking to evade its responsibility by technicalities

An answer setting up a general denial in the suit of John D DeGolley against Henry W Sager was filed by the defendant Thursday morning in the common pleas court through Attorneys Quigley & Johnson This is an action where the plaintiff seeks to recover judgment for alleged attorney fees

An answer denying all the allegations except the plaintiff s residence and the date of her marriage, was filed by the defendant, through Attorneys DeGolley & DeGolley Thursday morning in the common pleas court in the divorce suit of Hannah Cullen against Edward J Cullen

In the suit of Joseph Yearsley and Clarence Queen, partners against Samuel Burger to recover $170 on a check drawn by the defendant in their favor, Attorneys Quigley & Johnson, representing the defendant, filed an answer and cross-petition Wednesday, in the common pleas court Mr Burger admits that he drew the check as balance in payment for a colt, but in his cross-petition sets up that the colt was not sound as represented by the plaintiffs when it was purchased, and asks that he be given judgment for $22 because of the trouble he was put as a result of their false representations The colt in question it is said, died of pneumonia two days after the defendant had purchased it

In the receivership matter of Peter Gevan & Company Elias Bedway, through Attorney H Edmund Hill, has filed an answer and cross-petition in which he asks that promissory notes, amounting to $350 made to him by Peter Gevan and Louis Poulos and secured by their mortgage, be declared first and best lien on the goods, stocks, etc He asks that the property be sold and his right protected

In the matter of the claim of James M Thompson against the estate of the late Eliza B Jones Judge Babst, Wednesday afternoon, overruled the plaintiff s motion to dismiss the appeal for the reason that the transcript from the probate court and the original papers had not been filed within the time allowed by law Thompson as administrator of the estate, was allowed a claim of $575 50 in the probate court

Minnie Riley plaintiff in an action for a divorce against Albert Riley, was allowed three dollars a week temporary alimony by Judge Babst Tuesday morning The first payment must be made by June 13

Velma L McKibben and Mertyl N Seckel through Attorneys DeGolley & DeGolley, Thursday morning, in common pleas court, filed separate petitions, in which they ask that title to a farm in Claridon township may be quieted against any possible claim of George Thomas Mason or anybody claiming title under him The premises in question are a part of the estate of the late Joseph Mason, who died September 27, 1906

A demurrer to the petition has been filed by the defendants through Attorneys DeGolley & DeGolley, in the suit of the International Harvester company against George W and Barbara Parish It sets up that the petition does not state sufficient facts to constitute a cause of action and that the court has no jurisdiction

THE DECEASED WELL KNOWN IN MARION

Henry Flock, Aged Ninety-Five Years, Dies in Nevada

Mr and Mrs Fred M Hochstetler, of Vine street attended Wednesday, the funeral of Mrs Hochstetler s uncle Henry Flock who died at the home of his daughter Mrs John Gordon, of Nevada Monday morning

Mr Flock was in his ninety-fifth year, and had been a prominent and influential resident of Bucyrus since 1874 taking part in the political and religious affairs of that city for many years For the past two years he resided with his daughter in Nevada The aged man was very well known in this city where he had frequently visited and where he has several relatives

The funeral services were held at Nevada Wednesday morning at 10 o clock, and the remains were taken to Bucyrus where short services were held and interment made

WHEAT CROP IS NOT WHAT IT SHOULD BE

Ohio Should Produce 40,000,000 Bushels of Wheat.

NOT ENOUGH IS PLANTED IN STATE

Present Indications Are That the Oats Crop Will Be a Big One. Almost 47,000,000 Bushels Predicted—Fruits Are Hurt by Late Frosts.

The following report reference to crops and stock is compiled from returns received from 1043 official correspondents of the Ohio department of agriculture

Wheat prospect compared with normal yield, ninety-five per cent

Oats, prospect compared with normal yield, ninety-three per cent

Rye, prospect compared with normal yield ninety one per cent

Winter barley, prospect compared with normal yield, eighty-four per cent

Spring barley, prospect compared with normal yield, ninety per cent

Clover, prospect compared with normal yield, eighty nine per cent

Timothy, prospect compared with normal yield eighty-three per cent, damaged by grub worm, three per cent

Hogs fed for summer markets, thirty nine per cent, condition compared with an average, ninety-five per cent

Spring pigs, number saved compared with an average, eighty-seven per cent

Sheep, condition compared with an average ninety five per cent

Lambs, number saved compared with an average, ninety three per cent

Fruit, prospect compared with normal yield forty-three per cent

In previous reports we have called attention to the exceedingly small area seeded to wheat, and the impossibility of harvesting therefrom a normal production, even though the average yield per acre be well above an average Ohio should produce 40,000 000 bushels of wheat each year, but until the area is greatly increased this can not be realized The figures on wheat contained in this report are the first compiled under our new system of establishing a standard for comparison and show that from its present appearance the crop should produce approximately 21,008 368 bushels The area seeded to wheat is estimated at 1,521,0[illegible]0 acres and the correspondents estimate the prospect at this time at ninety-three per cent of a yield compared with a standard average Fifteen bushels per acre being the standard represented by 100 per cent In some sections of the state damage by joint worm is reported but these reports are not general

The figures on oats have been compiled on a similar system to that of wheat, except that thirty bushels per acre is standard represented by 100 per cent From the correspondents returns it is shown that from present appearance the crop should produce a full standard average The estimated area seeded to oats was 1,566,823 acres, hence if no change in prospect occurs between now and harvest the total yield for the state should be approximately 47,001 690 bushels

The cool, wet weather during the past month has retarded corn planting Where early planted growth has been slow, and many correspondents report condition as such that replanting will be necessary

Fruit shows the effects of late frosts the prospect for the state being estimated at forty-three per cent compared with a normal yield One month ago the prospect was reported at fifty-four per cent

A small number of hogs are being fed for summer markets The general average for the state being thirty-nine per cent

BOOMING SHOW FOR BASEBALL BENEFIT

Tickets Being Disposed Of by Thirty-Three Degree Fans

Robinson's circus, which is to appear in Marion June 17 for the benefit of the Marion Baseball club, will pitch its tents on the circus grounds along the car line on east Center street The contract for securing the grounds has been closed and the field is now being put in shape

Tickets for the show have been distributed to a number of the fans, and are being disposed of

The management is boosting the show, and both the city, and country have been billed while the surrounding towns have been well supplied with advertising matter The fans are requested to take a hand in promoting the circus and help to make it a success It is the desire and intention of the local men at the head of the enterprise to sell 6,000 tickets before the day of the show

Sheep Claims Allowed.

Sheep claims and witness fees therein for the year ending June 1 were allowed by the county commissioners, Wednesday afternoon. The claims for the year amount to $610 20, while the fees amounted to $37 50 for the same period The dog tax fund contains $2,892 53.

THE CAUSE OF THIS MIGHTY SLAUGHTER:

Owing to the backward season and not enough of warm weather in this county, we find ourselves overstocked with $40,000.00 worth of seasonable Ready to Wear Garments for Women and Children. Rather than carry any of this merchandise over next season, we will place our entire stock on sale in our building, for 10 days only, beginning SATURDAY, JUNE 11, at 9 a m, all to be sold regardless of former cost or value. Do not confound the sale with other so-called sales, as this is the first sale where a well known and reputable merchant is to continue business, that has ever been in this county and it may never occur again We advise you to cut this out and bring it with you so as to get the goods just as advertised. Remember no postponement. The merciless slaughter of modern merchandise positively begins at the J P LUDWIG CO.'S STORE, MARION, OHIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 11, at 9 a. m.

CHRISTIAN RELIGION DEFENDED BY PASTOR

Rev George M Rourke, of First Presbyterian Church,

ADDRESSES A GREAT GATHERING AT LARUE

The Marion Pastor Replies to Dr J B Wilson of Cincinnati, Who Delivered the Funeral Oration Over the Remains of the Late Captain Ira Williams

Before an audience that completely filled the Presbyterian church at La Rue Tuesday evening, Rev George M Rourke of this city delivered a stirring address in reply to Dr J B Wilson of Cincinnati who officiated at the funeral of the late Ira Williams a well known infidel

Rev Mr Rourke declared in part

I appreciate the courtesy by which I am permitted to say a word in defense of christianity Recently there has been an earnest attempt made in your midst to overthrow all views in regards to God and His church by merely venturing the opinions of one unfamiliar with the word of God and unacquainted with Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God? I refer to Dr J B Wilson the Cincinnati atheist who delivered the so called funeral oration over the dead body of one of your fellow citizens I have read that address very carefully and if I were not a professed follower of Jesus Christ that address would have a tendency to make me repudiate atheism in its cold and barbaric character

In the first place Dr Wilson would annihilate facts by merely insisting his disbelief in them but somehow facts are not removed that way He ignores the idea of God but accepts nature as his god and makes no attempt to account for the existence of nature He charges the clergy with the crime of going back on their theology at funerals and rushing all off to glory good and bad alike This is the custom of certain orders and perhaps a few preachers but the likelihood of Dr Wilson's unfamiliarity with preachers and sermons will not warrant such a remark to be received with any noticeable credence He asserts that sin is an essential a good To be a strong supporter of evil and a bold advocate of sin as an essential feature [illegible] the human race [illegible] to remind one of the father of all lies in simplicity that came to our first parents in Eden and our Master on the mount

Ye also remember the statement [illegible] the clergy are ashamed to mention hell except in ignorant cities It is just a little hard to understand how one knows what the clergy preach when that one never sits under their preaching and thousands of listeners are perhaps as intelligent as is the atheist who thinks he knows more than Almighty God In that address I read that the author charges God as being a detective delighting in the punishment of the [illegible] children of his own creation I do not know where Dr Wilson got his idea certainly not from the Bible for he is an enemy of the Bible and ignorant of its contents If he had read the Bible he would not have made such a statement exhibiting his ignorance As I live saith the Lord God I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked but that the wicked turn from his way and live turn ye turn ye for why will ye die O house of Israel? Ezekiel 33 11

Dr Wilson says it has only been 200 years since the christian clergy officially admitted that woman has a soul There are many places in the Orient where woman has no place and no rights But there needs to be a distinction between Christians and pagans The coming of Jesus Christ into this world lifted woman to a place which belongs to her [illegible] and wherever Christianity is [illegible] there woman is honored and respected as the daughter of the King Had not consecrated men gone as Christian missionaries Dr Wilson would now be hunting his food with a club and wearing no apparel but a [illegible] cloth He is very ungrateful [illegible] to insult his patron that has furnished him civilization and [illegible] the pioneer who [illegible] that he might live and enjoy Another very careless remark made was [illegible] the same all over the universe in the farthest planet as it is here When the author repudiates the idea of heaven because no one has come back it is a bold piece of conceit to announce to the public that [illegible] the same in distant planets as here when the public has no better authority for such statements than Dr Wilson who was never there and advises us not to receive divine authority on pure faith Another charge is that the whole scheme of salvation is a money making scheme

I do not know whether Dr Wilson has failed in his profession as a physician and become soured on all humanity or not but if the poor and blind and outcast were dependent upon infidelity for support and protection this world would be a [illegible] of woe unknown to the wildest imagination In the way of statistics will some one please [illegible] the hospitals orphanages [illegible] for the poor and unfortunate rescue missions and homes for the aged established by Atheism?

Dr Wilson says ninety five per cent of criminals are christians This statement is the outcrop of wilful ignorance that seems really pitiful For instance just write to the Ohio state penitentiary and find how many of the 1400 inmates are enthusiastic christians loyally serving the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ He also says he never hears anything from the pulpit about free will predestination foreordination baptism the immaculate conception and inspiration of scripture This is not to be wondered at [illegible] he stopped going to church when he was a boy and how can he [illegible] he did not go?

[illegible] told me to say that nine out of every ten who have deserted the Sabbath school and church and the faith of their fathers have done so [illegible] on moral defect and not some biblical dogma And this is the condemnation that light is come into the world and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil St John 3 19

And Dr Wilson says I do [illegible] want to go to any christian heaven Well the probability is he will get his wish gratified And these shall go away into everlasting punishment but the righteous into life eternal —St Matthew 25 46

When man is old as the Psalms [illegible] inform [illegible] that The fool hath said in his heart there is no God Psalms 14 1 [illegible] But the [illegible] who quibble [illegible] It seems almost necessary [illegible] kind of a mind to attempt to prove there is no mind The atheist [illegible] refuses to [illegible] Nothing [illegible] field of [illegible] been planted [illegible] that country [illegible] cultivation [illegible] have been planted The only explanation given why a rock occupies a place in the [illegible] is because [illegible] some force [illegible] the sidetrack [illegible] how that rock was placed [illegible] In other words all infidelity will [illegible] design any cause Infidelity [illegible] explanation or proof [illegible] of nature

August Comte the French philosopher defined as gods [illegible] of all the forces [illegible] voluntarily continuing in the universe [illegible] of the world That may be a very satisfactory and comforting definition of God to those who comprehend the depth of meaning [illegible] Now the christian believes in God the creator of all things Who was present when the morning stars sang their first song Who gave His only begotten Son that the world through Him might be saved from sin and death and Who is the Author of every good and perfect gift We believe that God is a spirit infinite eternal and unchangeable in His being wisdom power holiness justice goodness and truth The [illegible] who undertakes to denounce God and love throw the teaching [illegible] should prove an object [illegible] of his own skepticism

All men are responsible to some Being above them Plutarch said You may find [illegible] without walls and wealth but no one has seen a town without [illegible] and god The burden of proof is on the shoulders of him who denies the existence of God Tyndall contended that no atheistic belief [illegible] religion from the human heart [illegible] tops sway to and fro in obedience to the will of the [illegible] Some [illegible] generations have come and gone since the dawn of the Christian era Today there are about 80,000,000 of people in the United States At the time of the Revolution there were [illegible] three millions When the Pilgrim Fathers drove their little bark through the [illegible] seas into New England they [illegible] there were few inhabitants And going back through all the centuries we come to the first man and the first woman who are our first parents Since man can no more [illegible] without a mover and our first parents could not create themselves there must be a cause producing motion and [illegible] that created our first parents and that self existing cause [illegible] we call God the creator of heaven and earth and all that in them is

Of course the atheist refuses to accept the Bible [illegible] his denial of the validity of the scripture does not destroy the scriptures His skepticism is so [illegible] as to [illegible] refuse any [illegible] evidence of the truth of the word of God [illegible] This country has not the slightest doubt but Mr Roosevelt was in Africa and perhaps very few of [illegible] have seen Mr Roosevelt on the continent of Africa Out doors of [illegible] you do not expect reason to solve every mystery And within the sphere of religion reason should not be expected to solve all Reason can not solve the great problem of salvation neither does it convince you of Mr Roosevelt being in Africa We accept the geography of Africa and the visit of Mr Roosevelt to Africa because we have faith in the author of the geography and the statements of Mr Roosevelt through the press

There are those who refuse to establish a belief in the existence of God because they refuse to believe anything they can not receive through their senses touch taste smell hear and see And yet how very contradictory they are in their own statements These very people believe that Caesar crossed the Rubicon because they receive the testimony of history on faith and at the same time refuse to accept the testimony that Jesus had twelve disciples who bear witness to His wonder working miracles And yet these very same people declare the must witness the evidence by one of their five senses forgetting how incapable they are to prove to a long suffering public they possess brains inasmuch as it has never been their privilege to smell or see them

The diversity and multiplicity of religions may indicate that there is one true one Counterfeits imply there is a genuine one Man is not religious without knowing it neither is he an atheist without willing it A positive religion rests on external positive authority And the marvellous thing about Christianity is that it survives and flourishes in the presence of insult and continues to win men for the glory of God long after its foes have crumbled to dust Strauss the skeptic said Jesus is the highest model of religion within the reach of human thought

I maintain What ever the [illegible] John Stuart Mill [illegible] Hume the skeptic on [illegible] Voltaire on [illegible] in the midst of a terrible thunder storm In his dying hour Tom Paine said I would give the world if I had not written the Age of Reason You have read and heard of multitudes who brazenly insulted Christianity and [illegible] the church and blasphemed the name of Christ during the days of health and activity and these same blasphemers on their dying bed have called for mercy Christianity which has such a [illegible] polemic [illegible] a world wide influence morally politically and intellectually can be relied upon whatever attack ignorant and godless skeptics may continue to make upon it Their voice of condemnation has no more effect in dethroning the great God of heaven and earth than the [illegible] of the child checking the [illegible]

[illegible] conversation between [illegible] and an agnostic who ridiculed the clergyman for believing the Bible which he could not understand They sat at the same table in a Pullman dining car They were waiting for the first course at dinner a delicious Hudson river shad Eying his companion coolly for a moment the agnostic remarked

I judge you are a clergyman sir

Yes sir I am in my Master's service

Yes you look it Preach out of the old Bible don't you

Oh yes of course remarked the clergyman

You find a good many things in that book you don't understand don't you asked the agnostic

Oh! yes Some things was the reply

Well what do you do then? asked this scoffer

Why my friend I simply do just as we do while eating this delicious shad If I come to a bone I quietly lay it to one side go on enjoying the shad and let some fool agnostic insist on choking himself with the bone

The agnostic wound up his Waterbury watch and went into the smoker

...occurred yesterday afternoon found the girl in the Wilmont hotel on Prospect avenue southeast.

Helen was sitting on a bed crying over a newspaper account of his search for her when her father entered the room.

"Oh daddie daddie," screamed the girl, "I'm so sorry, I'm so sorry." The father placed his arms around his daughter and his tears mingled with hers as he told her to come back home with him.

Mrs. Anna Schindler, proprietor of the hotel, found Helen, who has been in Cleveland since May 17, crying in her room Tuesday. The girl had had nothing to eat for a day. She was hysterical and told Mrs. Schindler that she was about to kill herself.

Mrs. Schindler sat in the room with the girl all day Tuesday and finally persuaded her not to commit suicide. The woman knew nothing of the father's search until it was ended and the reunion completed.

...rized.

Troops have been rushed to the scene. The people are terror stricken and thousands are camped in the fields refusing to return to their homes. The government has sent $10 000 to the prefect of Avellino for the immediate use of the sufferers.

The large number of casualties is due to the fact that the quake occurred while the people were in bed. The rumbling lasted only a few seconds and so far as known there was but the one seismic disturbance.

Many Dead

Naples June 7—The most severe earthquake that has visited central Italy since the Messina catastrophe of a year and a half ago was experienced last night and it is feared today that a heavy death roll has resulted.

The shock extended throughout much of the Campannia province and as far south as Catanzaro and Cosenza in Calabria.

It is known that in the commune of Galitri alone nine persons were killed and many houses almost demolished.

Avellino with a population of 20-000, was hard hit but it is not known whether there were any fatalities there. Renevento, Cosenze, Castellamare Di Stabis and Rotenza were also violently shaken.

Telegraph communication with the quake district is interrupted and it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage. Troops have been dispatched to the district and the government has ordered the Naples authorities to make ready to rush provisions and tents to the affected cities should they be needed.

Ten bodies have been recovered at Sansossio and eleven are known to be dead at Castelbaronia.

Hundreds of persons were injured and in scores of cities and villages the people were driven from their homes through fear and actual danger and are now camped in the open country. Many fled without proper clothing and are afraid to return to their homes.

Processions of terrified people are imploring the saints for protection.

The famous cathedral at Foggio, the Mecca of tourists, was damaged.

Searching Ruins

Rome June 7—Today's returns from last night's quake zone greatly increase the early estimate of the dead. The dead in Calitri now number thirty and there are still many ruins to search. Heavy casualties are also reported in Vallata. The Italian Red Cross society is preparing to send its agents into the stricken field.

A PRISONER AROUSES DEPUTY'S SUSPICIONS

Twenty Five Men Thought To Be Involved

Several Convicts Implicated in the Plot Are Placed in Solitary Confinement—Officials State Man Who Plans Scheme Will Be Shown No Mercy—Men Appear Before the Prison Court Today

Columbus O June 7—What is regarded by penitentiary officials as the most desperate effort to bring about a wholesale penitentiary delivery was nipped in the bud Monday afternoon when Deputy Resch unearthed a plot to escape in which twenty five men are thought to have been involved.

As a result John Fmune, serving ten years for burglary and larceny from Circleville; John Garland, serving two years from Summit county for house breaking; John O'Connor, alias Andrew Coldsberry, considered a desperate man, serving fifteen years from Dayton for robbery, and Evan James, serving five years from Summit county for robbery, are in solitary confinement and the officials are making every effort to find the other men thought to have been implicated.

Deputy Resch became suspicious Sunday afternoon when he saw one of the prisoners talking suspiciously with a visiting sister. He questioned the man, whose name is withheld, and the whole plot was brought to light.

Men Have Weapons

John O'Connor, who is a second termer and has served a term in Joliet, was the ringleader. He worked in the moulding shop and had arranged a mould to be thrown over the wires at the north gate by which the gates could be opened. The twenty five men were to make the dash at one time through the gate at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

O'Connor had furnished the men with weapons of various kinds, some of which had been polished to resemble pistols. A number were sharpened like knives.

Immediately following the disclosure of the plot the men accused Garland as the weakest of the crowd of giving it away. He denied it and a fight followed. Then they accused Harry Hilliard, murderer, and this accusation was followed by a free for all fight.

Penitentiary officials state that the men who planned the escape will be shown no more mercy than if they had actually escaped.

All the men were before the penitentiary court today.

...railroad legislation about to be enacted for the Sherman anti-trust law as regards rate-making by railroads. The agreement between the government and the roads is viewed here as lifting the menace that has overshadowed transportation business of the country ever since Mr. Wickersham undertook to apply the Sherman anti-trust law to a situation that has been regarded for years as inevitable.

What Government Offers

The agreement reached between President Taft and representatives of the railroads will extend beyond the 2[illegible] roads comprising the Western Trunk Line association. All of the eastern trunk lines which recently filed increases and also the 24 railroads composing the Chicago and Ohio River association will undoubtedly follow the example set by the western trunk line committee and withdraw all increased freight rates that have been filed with the interstate commerce commission since May 1 last. President Brown of the New York Central, President McCrea of the Pennsylvania and the heads of other eastern trunk lines will confer with President Taft at the White House today and it has been plainly intimated that they will join in the action that was taken by representatives of the western roads. In fact President Brown of the New York Central is already on record as favoring a suspension of increases pending an investigation by the interstate commerce commission under the authority to be conveyed by the new law.

Effect on Present Rates

The general effect of the understanding reached at the White House will be that all increases in freight rates that have been filed since May 1 and that have been contemplated by the railroads of the country within the next few months will be suspended in their operation for at least a year. This suspension will be far reaching in its effect upon many railroads that have been counting on the increased revenue from the advances but in the opinion of railroad men here this disturbance will be trivial compared with what would have resulted through the uncertainty arising out of an attempt on the part of the administration to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law against the present method of rate making.

Here is the statement that the president issued after the conference:

"E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company; Walker D. Hines, acting chairman of the executive committee Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe; Fred A. Delano, president of the Wabash Railroad company, and C. al Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad company, a committee representing the 24 railroad companies defendants in a suit brought by the government in Missouri in which Judge Dyer granted an injunction restraining increases in rates, met the president and the attorney general pursuant to a request

LIQUOR FORCES GIVEN A BLOW

Ruling of Supreme Court May Affect Breweries

A VIOLATION OF THE ROSE LAW

Fine of Fulton County Brewer Is Upheld

Effect of Decision Is Taken To Mean That a Brewery or Selling Agency Can Not Sell in a Dry County Beer That Is Made in That Dry County Even If Office Is in a Wet County

Columbus O June 7—The liquor forces were given a blow by the supreme court Tuesday when the judgments of the lower courts in which August Walder, a Fulton county brewer, was fined $170 for violating the Rose law were upheld.

When Fulton county voted dry in November 1908 Walter was running a brewery at Archibald. He continued making beer in the dry county but moved his offices across into Henry county three miles from Archibald. Here he received orders for beer through the mails and delivered the goods in Fulton county. He was indicted and convicted of violating the law.

The effect of the supreme court decision in upholding his conviction is taken to mean that a brewery or a selling agency can't sell in a dry county beer that is made in that dry county even if the office of the concern is in a wet county.

The supreme court also decided Tuesday that a man can't be held responsible for debts contracted by his wife before he married her; also that a county treasurer can not seize furniture to cover liquor tax assessment when there is a mortgage on the furniture.

...and Senator Crane believe that the bill should go to conference and the clause altered there. The president's message reads:

Cause of Suit

"A recent effort by a large number of railroad companies to increase freight rates for interstate transportation of persons and property caused me to direct the attorney general to bring a suit and secure from the United States court in Missouri an injunction restraining the operation of such increased rates during the pendency of the proceeding. This action led to a conference with the representatives of the railroad companies so enjoined and the agreement by each of them to withdraw the proposed increases of rates effective on or after June 1 and not to file any further attempts at increases until after the enactment into law of the pending bill to amend the interstate commerce act or the adjournment of the congress, with the further understanding that upon the enactment of such law each would submit to the determination of the Interstate Commerce commission the question of reasonableness of all increases that each might thereafter propose. It is my hope that all of the other railroad companies will take like action. In order however that each may have the benefit of a speedy determination whether or not its proposed increases in rates are justifiable provision should be made by congress to vest the Interstate Commerce commission with jurisdiction over such questions as soon as possible.

An Investigation

"In the senate amendment to section thirteen of the act to regulate commerce contained in H. R. 17,536 the Interstate Commerce commission is empowered immediately upon the filing of a proposed increase in rates of its own motion or upon complaint to enter upon an investigation and determination of the justice and reasonableness of such increase and in case it deems it expedient to suspend the operation thereof for a period specified in the section to enable it to complete such investigations. That bill however provides that the act shall take effect and be in force only from and after the expiration of sixty days after its passage.

"This provision, if allowed to remain in the bill would enable carriers between the time of enactment of the bill and the time of its taking effect to file increases on the rates which would become effective at the expiration of thirty days and remain in effect and be collected from the public during the pendency of proceedings to review them, whereas if the bill be made to take effect immediately such investigation will have to be made before the public is called upon to pay the increased rate.

YUCATAN UPRISING IS MOST SERIOUS

Indians Destroy Twenty Miles of Railroad

All Wire Connections with Yucatan Is Cut Off by the Insurgents, but Most Startling Reports Reach Mexico City by Courier—Gunboat Leaves with Six Hundred Soldiers Aboard—Indians Dissatisfied

Mexico City June 7—With reports reaching here today that a score of Mexican officials of the state of Yucatan have been slain by the Maya Indians who have been in open revolt since last Saturday the greatest excitement has been aroused in the capital.

It is feared that the present uprising in Yucatan will prove the most serious the government has yet had to confront and arrangements are being completed today for the pouring of troops into the province to put down the revolt at any cost.

All wire communication with Yucatan has been cut off by the insurgents but most startling reports are reaching here by courier. One report says 10 000 Maya Indians have taken the war path and already have murdered hundreds of persons. The gunboat Morelos has left Santa Cruz with six hundred soldiers aboard while the boat Zaragosa is lying in the harbor waiting the arrival of additional troops to be rushed to the scene.

Twenty miles of railroad have been destroyed by the Indians and many telegraph operators have been killed or made prisoners. It is understood the trouble was brought on by dissatisfaction on the part of the Indians over action taken by the government in regard to certain lands.

THE MAYOR CAUSES ANOTHER SENSATION

Issues Proclamation Commanding the People To View Circus Parade

Salem Mass June 7—Mayor Arthur Howard, elected chief executive of Salem as a joke last fall, has caused another sensation by issuing an unique proclamation demanding that the town turn out to view a circus parade today. Through his efforts the school board has ordered the schools closed so that the children may view the procession.

In his proclamation he says:

"I therefore command that every man, woman and child shall assemble on the street for the purpose of viewing the circus parade. No excuse for non attendance of children will be accepted."

...cities. My trip to England was primarily due to the invitation of the vice chancellor of Oxford. In the vernacular of my own country I have had a sufficiently lively time in the last three months."

The colonel was next conducted to Christ college and thence to Magdalen college.

Lord Curzon created roars of laughter by turning to the vice chancellor just as Roosevelt appeared in the lecture hall, and exclaiming so that all in the auditorium could hear him:

"Behold the promised wight, before whose coming the comets changed their course and all the startled mouths of the 'Seven-Fold Nile' took fright."

Plays Great Part

Then in a serious vein Curzon in his introductory said that "Roosevelt was 'playing a great part on the world's slate.' He has twice administered the affairs of a great republic and perhaps would be called on to again take up the chief magistracy of his country.

"He is the peer of kings, a ruler from among men, the destroyer of monsters wherever found, yet the most human of mankind."

Curzon's eulogy brought great applause.

While much of Roosevelt's lecture was an academic discussion of his theme he found numerous opportunities for discoursing on his hobby of the necessity of retaining the virile fighting men as the foundation of a nation that would stand. He declared that if England or America fell it would be because they had not safeguarded themselves "against the enemies within our own households and these enemies are our own passions and follies."

In conclusion he expressed his belief in the continuing greatness of the civilized nations of today.

Roosevelt lunched at the American club. There were 200 guests including Mrs Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Ambassador Reid.

CONGRESSMAN HAS CLOSE CALL

Dalzell Wins Renomination After Bitter Fight at Primary.

Philadelphia June 6—In the 32 congressional districts in Pennsylvania all of the slated Republican candidates were renominated after hot contests in half a dozen districts. Congressman Alfred D. Garner of Schuylkill county, a Cannonite, and William H. Graham of the Twenty-ninth have been defeated.

John Dalzell encountered a hard fight, being opposed in the Thirteenth by Former Mayor Black of McKeesport. The returns show a close contest but Congressman Dalzell's election is conceded. Mayor Black announced that criminal proceedings charging fraud will be instituted against Dalzell.

THE MARION COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WIN

Are Victorious Over the Commissioners of Morrow,

IN M'KIBBEN JOINT COUNTY DITCH MATTER

Judge Mansfield, in Morrow County Court, Holds That Morrow County Must Show Good Cause or Pay $500 and Costs to Marion County—Case Probably at an End

The Marion county board of commissioners, after a long court squabble, have won a victory over the Morrow county board in the matter of the McKibben joint county ditch improvement, the original cost of which was over $11 000

Prosecuting Attorney Charles L Justice, Saturday received from the Morrow county clerk of the courts an opinion by Judge Edwin Mansfield who in sustaining the demurrer of Prosecutor Justice virtually knocks the case out of court

Judge Mansfield holds that the petition filed by Prosecutor J C Williamson, of Morrow county to restrain the Marion county commissioners from constructing an extension of the McKibben ditch and assessing Morrow county for its share of the cost for an outlet into the Whetstone river, does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action and that the Morrow county prosecutor was without legal capacity to maintain an action of the kind His decision means that the construction of the ditch will now proceed and that Morrow county will have to pay Marion county $500 as directed by the probate court at a hearing held several months ago

The history of the case is interesting In 1898, a petition was granted to construct the McKibben ditch, which was tiled a distance of two miles into Marion county Ten years later a petition was filed to make a tiled extension of the ditch for an outlet into the Whetstone beginning at the terminus of the present ditch on the land of John Firstenberger in Richland township and running in a southwesterly direction to the Whetstone river

May 5, 1908 the Marion board of commissioners granted and located the extension of the tile ditch The matter was appealed to the probate court and a commission of disinterested parties fixed the amount Morrow county was to pay Marion county at $500

The Morrow county prosecuting attorney then appealed to the common pleas court The Marion commissioners maintained that the action was improper because it ought to have been taken up on error instead of being appealed Their motion was sustained and the petition was dismissed

Prosecuting Attorney Williamson then filed a new petition in Morrow county, April 16 1909 In this he sought a permanent order to restrain the Marion county commissioners from constructing the outlet and assessing Morrow county taxpayers for their portion of the cost The suit was entitled State of Ohio on complaint of J C Williamson prosecuting attorney, for the benefit of Morrow county, plaintiff, against Daniel Seiter, J D Gillespie and W H Holverstott, commissioners of Marion county, S F Poland Henry Ault and Wash Rimey, commissioners of Morrow county and Edward S Ault surveyor of Marion county To this was filed a demurrer maintaining that the petition did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action and further setting up that the plaintiff was without legal capacity to bring such an action The demurrer was argued before Judge Mansfield two months ago In his opinion just rendered the court holds that in addition to the Morrow county prosecutor's failure to state sufficient facts he did not represent the county for the benefit of the taxpayers because he was without legal authority to bring the action and that the petition was faulty on the further ground that the Morrow county commissioners if they had a legal defense ought to have set it up when the case was disposed of in Marion county

In sustaining the demurrer Judge Mansfield held that the petition be dismissed within ten days if the plaintiff did not plead further within that time Judgment for costs amounting to several hundred dollars, was rendered against Morrow county

Taft and Small Colleges

President Taft has consented to grace the commencement exercises of a number of the smaller and less well known colleges On June 2 he will attend the commencement exercises of Ohio Northern university at Ada Ohio On June 15 he will attend those at Villanova and at Lincoln college a negro institution—these two institutions being located in the eastern part of Pennsylvania Opportunity and convenience doubtless have something to do with the president's consent to attend these exercises but they can not have everything to do with it It would seem that the president has made a point of accepting the invitations

If it is even a red letter day for the big college when the president or other high public official attends its commencement exercises how much more of an event is it for the small college? The small college in the past had good cause to complain that it was neglected and overlooked by public men It found it difficult or impossible to secure promises of attendance from such men President Taft seems resolved that so far as he can influence these conditions a different rule shall prevail

It may seem a small question but it is in fact an important one By attending the formal exercises of small but efficient institutions of the kind the president sends the whole body of them that sort of aid and encouragement which we feel sure they crave above many other things This does not apply to educational institutions alone It applies to many others And we hope that in the future more public men will follow President Taft's example helping and encouraging where help and encouragement are most needed —New York Globe

A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said:

"'I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished They thought that there was smell and smoke from an oil stove, and that it heated a room just like any other stove I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost'"

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove means to you? No more coal to carry no more coming to the dinner table so tired out that you can't eat Just light a Perfection Oil Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot kettle or oven But the room isn't heated There is no smoke, no smell no outside heat no drudgery in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used

Cautionary Note Be sure you get this stove—see that the name plate reads "New Perfection

Kalkbrenner [illegible] and Ackerman were all fined [illegible] Mayor [illegible] the town [illegible] case on the [illegible] the evidence [illegible] not sufficient to warrant conviction.

[illegible] the injunction proceedings [illegible] Greeno [illegible] prevent the collection of the Aikin tax, the only one of the six sustained by the court, Judge Scofield said that the action was brought perpetually to enjoin the collection by the defendant, the State of Ohio, of an assessment levied against certain real estate of the plaintiffs. This assessment, said the court, it is asserted by the defendant is a lien on the property under the Dow or Aikin tax law providing for an assessment of $1,000 upon the business of trafficking in spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors. A temporary injunction was allowed upon the filing of the petition and the case has now been submitted on its merits.

Concluding his opinion in the Greeno case the court added:

It will be noticed that the tax is to be assessed not upon the sale or the selling of the liquors mentioned, not upon the trafficking in them, but upon the business of trafficking in spirituous, vinous, malt or any other intoxicating liquors. So upon the undisputed facts—upon the admission of Mr. Greeno himself that he engaged in the business—the property described in the petition became subject to the lien of the tax under the statute, and accordingly there should be a finding in favor of the defendant, the petition of the plaintiff should be dismissed and the temporary injunction dissolved at the cost of the plaintiff.

[illegible] Tilms was granted a decree of divorce from [illegible] Tilms Monday morning in the common pleas court by Judge W. [illegible] Scofield. She charged gross neglect. Alimony was agreed upon out of court. The plaintiff was restored to her maiden name of [illegible]

In the divorce suit of Clayton Harper against Emma Harper the defendant through Attorney L. [illegible] Myers filed an answer and cross petition in the common pleas court Monday morning. In her answer she admits she was married to the plaintiff but not on the date alleged in the petition. She says she was married to him December [illegible] 1881 instead of the year 1884 as stated in the petition. In her cross petition the plaintiff charges the plaintiff with gross neglect and extreme cruelty claiming that he struck her with his clenched fists and accused her wrongfully of immoral conduct. She asks divorce, custody of their adopted child, reasonable alimony and an order restraining the plaintiff from disposing of certain property. A temporary restraining order was granted as prayed for by Judge Scofield Monday morning.

In the suit of Sidney Gruber against James Ullom, Marion township ditch supervisor, and others, James Ullom through Attorney Charles I. Justice has filed an answer setting up a general denial.

In the civil suit of Dr. Joseph Haas Remedy company against Wilson O. Rish the demurrer to the first and second defense in the answer is sustained but the demurrer to the third defense is overruled. This is a suit over a contract.

A motion to make the petition more definite and certain has been overruled in the damage suit of Lewis Tron against the C. C. C. & St. L. Railway company. The defendant is given leave to answer by June [illegible]

The demurrer to the petition is sustained and leave is given to file an amended petition by June [illegible] in the suit of Amanda Miller against Susana Conklin.

A motion to quash service of summons in the attachment matter of J. M. Fite & company against William H. Sinle has been overruled. The defendant is given leave to answer by June [illegible]

In the suit of John Bingham against the Hill Commission company, an action for damages for personal injuries sustained while in the employment of the defendant, Judge W. [illegible] Scofield Monday morning overruled a demurrer to the petition. The defendant was given leave to answer by July 2.

In the appeal suit of Willis Kamble [illegible] the Marion Automobile company against H. [illegible] Levi a motion to dissolve the attachment was sustained by Judge W. [illegible] Scofield Monday. The property attached is ordered turned over to the defendant by garnishee upon the doing of which garnishee shall be discharged. The judgment with the original papers is ordered transmitted to Justice Charles H. Conley for entry on his docket. Judgment against the plaintiff for cost.

After being married more than a quarter of a century Clayton Harper through Attorney Fred [illegible] Carhart brought an action for a divorce from Emma Harper last week in the common pleas court. He avers that he has always been a dutiful and loving husband and charges his wife with immoral conduct with other men.

The Harpers were married at [illegible] December [illegible] 1881. The plaintiff [illegible] that [illegible] the defendant [illegible] Harper's third addition to Marion be reformed so as to [illegible] the plaintiff [illegible] therein instead of the [illegible] defendant. He also asks that she be barred from all dower right and that he be given custody [illegible] eight year old adopted son.

In the matter of the claim of James M. Thompson against the estate of Eliza P. Jones deceased the plaintiff through Attorneys Scofield & Durfee and Charles C. Fisher filed [illegible] this suit [illegible] week [illegible] the appeal for the reason that the transcript from the probate court and the original papers were not filed within the time allowed by law.

"If you find in favor of the plaintiff your finding must be in a nominal sum—say five or ten cents or a dollar," said Judge W. F. Scofield Thursday afternoon in his charge to the jury which had heard the evidence in the suit of James Harruff against Sarah and William Dutt.

Harruff sued for $100 damages claiming in his petition that the defendant William Dutt had chopped down some heavy timber which in falling had destroyed some small trees owned by the plaintiff. In the trial of the suit however the evidence failed to prove the amount of damages done to the Harruff trees. Mr. Harruff when asked what the damages would amount to replied that he did not know. Hence Judge Scofield's instruction to the jury as stated.

The jury deliberated about three quarters of an hour and returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

In an amended petition filed by Attorneys Harry N. Quigley and [illegible] & Donthitt Saturday in the common pleas court Roscoe Oborn, receiver for the Ohio Milling & Elevator company, asks that the defendant, the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company be compelled to pay to him the sum of $[illegible] with interest from July [illegible] 1905.

May 6, 1904 and thereafter, it is set up, Loring J. Smith was employed as secretary and general manager of the Ohio Milling & Elevator company and that on that date the defendant executed and delivered to the plaintiff in consideration of the payment of an annual premium its bond to reimburse the plaintiff for pecuniary loss by it sustained while Loring J. Smith was an officer of the company as a result of Smith's dishonesty.

The amended petition sets up that Smith converted to his own use the sum of $4,12[illegible] in money, accounts receivable and securities and also grain and the proceeds derived from it to the amounts and values as follows: Wheat 17[illegible] bushels valued at $1[illegible]; oats [illegible] bushels valued at $[illegible]; rye fifty four bushels valued at $[illegible]10; a total of $[illegible]01.

Through Attorney Harry N. Quigley the plaintiff in the suit of Fred Turner against Erasmus J. Ford and others has filed a motion to strike from the defendants' answer certain portions on the ground that the same are irrelevant and immaterial and in large part mere conclusions of law and fact.

An affidavit for service by publication has been filed by the plaintiff in the suit of Ezekiel Browne and John Washburn against Peter McWhorter and others through Attorney Charles C. Fisher. This is an action whereby the plaintiffs ask that the score or more of defendants named be compelled to show their interest or estate in 120 acres in Salt Rock township, that the claims may be adjudged null and void and that the plaintiffs' title to the real estate be quieted against the defendants.

The divorce matter of Grace Eikens against Edgar F. Eikens was heard in part by Judge W. L. Scofield Saturday morning. Although the case was uncontested the court announced that he would like to hear further evidence and continued the hearing.

Peter Gevis through Attorneys Crissinger & Guthery filed a petition asking that a receiver be appointed for Peter Gevis & Company Saturday morning in the common pleas court. In his petition the plaintiff says that he and Louis Paul are partners doing business under the firm name of Peter Gevis & Company engaged in the retail fruit and confectionery business in this city; that May [illegible] 1910 Louis Paul absconded and abandoned the business; that he took with him a considerable amount of money which he appropriated to his own use with intent to defraud; that he made large purchases of fruit and candies, cigars and other goods which he sold and kept the money; that June 1, 1910 actions in court were brought against the plaintiff and Louis Paul for large amounts of money on claims against the partnership and that attachments have been issued.

Further setting up that the store can be conducted with profit he prays that a receiver be appointed, averring that the property is worth from $1,[illegible]00 to $1,[illegible]00 and that the indebtedness amounts to $1,[illegible]00. The store is mortgaged in the sum of $750.

Ray Simpson was appointed receiver by Judge W. L. Scofield. He gave $1,000 bond.

Through Attorney H. [illegible] Emmons [illegible] a petition was filed by William Whitney in the common pleas court Saturday [illegible] Delander [illegible] Delander and the Home Building Saving & Loan company being named defendants. He says that he recovered judgment against [illegible] Delander for $110 together with $8.40 cost in the common pleas court April 4, 1910; that on the latter date an execution was issued on the judgment and levy made on lot No. [illegible] in Klingel's addition; that the defendants [illegible] and the Home Building Saving & Loan company claim to have a lien on the premises by reason of which the plaintiff is unable to [illegible] a sale under the execution. He asks that the claimants be compelled to set up their claims if they have any or be forever barred and that the property be ordered sold.

Hazel [illegible] Collins was granted a decree of divorce from Claude [illegible] Collins and restored to her maiden name of Hazel Eva Mapes by Judge W. [illegible] Scofield Saturday. In her petition filed April 9, 1910 the plaintiff alleged gross neglect of duty and three years wilful absence. She was married to the defendant at [illegible] February 1, 1907. About a month after the marriage the plaintiff says her husband began to neglect her by remaining away from home until [illegible] o'clock in the morning with strange women. August [illegible] 190[illegible] he said she was compelled to leave on account of his abuse.

[illegible] Smart was granted a decree of divorce from [illegible] Smart whose whereabouts are unknown and given the custody of their daughter Celia May by Judge W. [illegible] Scofield Saturday. [illegible] Smart brought her action for divorce April 21, 1910 and charged the defendant with gross neglect of duty, cruelty and immoral conduct with a strange woman whom she named [illegible] Louise. The Smarts were married at Richwood December 21, [illegible]

Judge W. [illegible] Scofield granted Eliza Starts a decree of divorce from John Starts and awarded her the custody of their child Saturday. The plaintiff filed her petition December [illegible] 1909 and charged the defendant with desertion and failure to provide. They were married at Columbus October [illegible] 190[illegible]

A decree of divorce was granted Mamie [illegible] Brown by Judge W. [illegible] Scofield Saturday. She was restored to her maiden name of Burket. She charged the defendant Ellsworth Brown in her petition filed April 11, 1910 with extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty. She claimed that he violently struck her with his clenched fist and many times threatened her with misconduct to annoy and torment her. The Browns were married at Marion July [illegible] 1906.

In the divorce suit of Clayton Harper against Emma Harper the defendant through Attorney L. [illegible] Myers Friday afternoon filed a motion for allowance of alimony for the purpose of employing and paying her attorney in defense to the petition, securing the testimony of her witnesses and the deposition of one or two outside of Ohio, the ordinary expenses incident to a contested case and for her expenses and maintenance during the pendency of the action.

Judge Daniel Babst came down from Crestline Tuesday to preside in the jury trial of John [illegible] against the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Railway company but owing to the [illegible] of two of the plaintiff's witnesses the case was continued. [illegible] seeks to recover $40 judgment for the death of a cow on the company's right of way.

Tuesday Judge [illegible] granted James O'Keeffe leave to file a petition in error in the common pleas court. O'Keeffe was fined $200 in the court of Mayor J. [illegible] Seiter for alleged violation of the Rose law [illegible] Tuesday afternoon [illegible] heard the case on [illegible] served his [illegible] the inability of two [illegible] to be present the matter was continued.

After going to the [illegible] court the affairs of the old Marion Malleable Iron company were wound up in the common pleas court Tuesday when Judge Babst [illegible] and approved the report of Receiver Charles C. Fisher. The receiver was discharged. This [illegible] until [illegible] Frank A. Huber and others, creditors, against the Marion Malleable Iron company and others, [illegible] stockholders [illegible] the report was filed some months ago.

COUNTY MAY LOOK TO BONDS OF ASSESSORS

Who Neglect To Appraise Farm Land Properly

IN CONFORMITY TO OATHS TAKEN

It Is Said That Some of the Bondsmen Are Getting Panicky—Representative Smith Can Not Understand Why People Do Not Realize That Appraisement Means Lower Taxes

Valuations made this year by city, village and rural quadrennial assessors will be subject to the new one and one half per cent rate as provided by the Aldorf-Smith law.

The appraisement is for the duplicate of 1911 and the first payment under that duplicate will be in December of that year. The second payment will be in June 1912. Nothing that is now being done by the quadrennial assessors has anything to do with the duplicate of 1910.

The quadrennial assessors, especially members of the Marion board, say that the average taxpayer does not understand that the present valuations will not apply to the duplicate for this year. The new high valuation will be subject only to the one and one half per cent rate and as stated the first payment under the rate will be made a year from next December.

Representative William I. Smith believes he easily could convince the township assessors that they ought to appraise their property at its full value in money. He probably will be invited to address them at their next meeting.

By assessing all property at its full value in money it will lower their tax rate, declared Representative Smith in discussing the tax problem. The law specifically provides that the rate can not be any more than it was and under no circumstance can it be over fifteen mills. I mean by that: If the rate last year was sixteen mills the rate under the one and one half per cent law can not be over fifteen mills. This fear of taxes being higher because property is to be appraised at its full value in money is groundless. It will lower the tax rate. The new law protects the taxpayer and assures him that the tax rate can not be more.

Since the announcement of County Auditor Charles I. Allen that the cost of a reappraisement will cost about $5,000 much anxiety has resulted among the fifty or more personal bondsmen for the various land assessors in the county. Owing to the refusal of certain land assessors to appraise farm property at its full value in money there is a persistent rumor that the bondsmen will be held liable for the cost of reappraisement.

When asked if the assessor bondsmen were liable County Auditor Allen replied Tuesday:

We have that matter now under consideration and we will present it to the attorney general of the state for his opinion. Each of the assessors in the county has from two to three well known and responsible citizens on his bond.

Under their oath of office all land assessors must say they will appraise all property at its full value in money.

TEDDY JUNIOR IS AN ACTIVE FLOWER BUYER

New York June [illegible] Theodore Roosevelt Jr has not had time to worry about the carpet business lately. Since he left his work in the New England carpet factory a month ago he has been busy giving dinners and arranging for his marriage to Miss Eleanor Alexander June 20. Each day young Roosevelt buys a bouquet of flowers and he is not satisfied with sending them, but he carries them to the home of Miss Alexander. He is shown in the above picture carrying his daily bouquet.

New York June [illegible] Hon C S Rolls, the first man to fly from England to France and return again without stopping his machine, is coming to New York this month and will enter the flying contests to be held in New York, Chicago and St Louis. Mr Rolls is flying more for honor than for cash prizes, his flight across the English channel bringing him only a $100 gold cup. These pictures were taken by the American Press Association. They arrived in New York while Rolls was flying across the English channel. They were taken May 2[illegible] when he made his first attempt to fly across the channel but alighted after flying some [illegible]00 yards. The first picture shows Rolls making his first attempt. The second picture shows him with his life preserver being placed in position.

LITTLE MISS KOENIG ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

In Honor of Her Ninth Birthday Anniversary

SHE IS ASSISTED BY HER SISTER, EDEMA

A Very Merry Afternoon Is Spent by the Youngsters—Fifty So-Called Friends of Mr and Mrs Eugene Moore Give Them an Old Fashioned Belling

In honor of her ninth birthday anniversary Little Miss Eleanore Koenig entertained a number of her young friends Monday afternoon at the home of her parents Mr and Mrs Carl Koenig, [illegible] Olney avenue. The little hostess was assisted in entertaining by her sister Edema.

The afternoon was passed with all kinds of children's games and merrymaking, and a jolly time was had.

Those at the party were: Mary Mulron, Helen Staub, Pauline Bauer, Anna Marie Klingel, Catherine Pies, [illegible] Temple, Eva C[illegible], Mary Petstetter, Mary Alice [illegible], Julia Bohl[illegible], Maud Arthur, Ruth Dun[illegible], [illegible], Ora Maxine [illegible], Alfreda [illegible], Ethel Hazel Pies, Grace Koenig, [illegible], Eugene Seiter, Kenneth [illegible], Theodore Zuck, John B[illegible], Paul Seiter, William Bland, Foster Lattimore, Harry Mulron and Paul Medlow.

MAYOR SEITER IS GREATLY CONCERNED

Over Language of Judge Scofield in Lid Cases

BELIEVES HIGHER COURT PREJUDCED

The Mayor's Court May Have Been Contaminated by Prosecuting Witnesses in Lid Cases, but the Mayor Believes the City Is Greatly Contaminated in Other Ways

Mayor Seiter seemed greatly concerned Tuesday over what was said by Judge Scofield in reversing the lid cases in which Edward Rist and Jack Powers were the prosecuting witnesses. The mayor asked if the articles as published were the substance of the remarks of the judge and at first laughed at the accusation made against his court.

Later Mayor Seiter grew more serious and took the reversal of Judge Scofield to heart. He said he had as much right to believe the prosecuting witnesses as he did the defendants and their witnesses and stated that he believed that the judge of the common pleas court was a little prejudiced regardless of how he may have been. While his court may have been contaminated by the prosecuting witnesses he believed that the city was just as much contaminated in other ways. If I am not to believe a witness under oath what can be expected, was the remark of the mayor just before he was interrupted by the appearance of a prisoner for trial.

THE HEATHEN WOMAN'S PRAYER

By William T. Ellis

The International Sunday School Lesson for June 1[illegible] Is The Canaanitish Woman Matthew 15 21 28

[illegible] man who made success [illegible] unusual [illegible]. A woman [illegible] to marry him. Of [illegible] they refused. They were [illegible]. A man who will let six women [illegible] not want any one of [illegible] badly enough to insure [illegible] realms of life [illegible]. According to young [illegible]. They who [illegible] thing and are willing [illegible] for them always [illegible]. This heart [illegible] story of a heathen [illegible] indomitable faith is full [illegible] everyday life. Everybody has an assortment of [illegible] things; a few persons [illegible] with [illegible] taken definiteness and terrible earnestness some supreme gift. The [illegible] are the ones who get what [illegible] want. An English philosopher [illegible] literary man of rare gifts [illegible] to have left unfinished [illegible] of no less than 10,000 different theses. Is it any wonder that he has left nothing of definite value? He has failed to stay with the great [illegible] and all other achievers: This one thing I do. The Canaanitish woman may have [illegible] all the blessings of the true faith of Israel but her tremendous longing for the healing of her maniac daughter obscured these. She wanted one thing—and she got it.

A few days ago I learned the life story of a man in the middle West who has for years been laboring to perfect a process that will enable him to produce photographs that will [illegible] the sharpness and brilliancy which they have in the bath. Literally for years he was scoffed at as one of those fanatical inventors. But like hundreds of other fanatical inventors he conquered all difficulties and has created a new order in photography. Generations hence families which possess in all their original [illegible] these indelible portraits of their ancestors will thank God for a man who wanted one thing so devoutly that he would not rest until he got it.

Wanting Tremendously

The trouble with many persons in [illegible] is that they have been bitten by the supine and fatalistic philosophy of the Orient, which is always ready to accept things as they are. [illegible] are not at all in sympathy with [illegible] heathen woman. They would [illegible] that she showed very bad manners throughout. Her presumption, for she belonged to an outcast [illegible] from the Jewish standpoint, [illegible] enthusiasm, her rude intrusion [illegible] the privacy of Jesus were all in bad form. And some of us too would rather be [illegible] than [illegible] meteors.

This dilettante attitude toward life is [illegible] bane of our times. The cultured [illegible] the world has [illegible] only half indulgently at persons with a purpose and a mission [illegible] call them [illegible]. [illegible] would alone [illegible]. All while they cynically sneer [illegible] and enthusiasm [illegible] forming in their [illegible] vanity is putting its sackcloth [illegible] their eyes. [illegible] can do their [illegible] on a look of jadedness and [illegible]tiness.

The secret of best living is the possession of a great purpose. The [illegible] women who have wanted to do things in their time have driven [illegible] things from existence. A friend [illegible] has said: The miserable rule [illegible] dominated to great things is [illegible] to mediocre men the power [illegible] who have hitherto [illegible] undeterred [illegible] to be counted [illegible] their [illegible] puzzles. Will you [illegible] the [illegible] of suffering [illegible] out to rob him of his [illegible] in the sorrow of the Canaanitish woman and her [illegible] than the trivial monotonous round of the existence of many [illegible] scorned her. This means much [illegible] the zest of her great pursuit and she had at length the superlative joy such as lesser lives could not know of gaining the prize she coveted.

A Gem of Literature

The whole story is so brief and so gripping that it may be here quoted entire. I copy from the colloquial version called The Twentieth Century New Testament:

On going away from that place Jesus retired into the country round Tyre and Sidon. There a Canaanite woman from that district came out and began calling to Jesus, Take pity on me, Master, Son of David; my daughter is cruelly under the power of an evil spirit. But not a word did Jesus say in reply. His disciples came up and begged Him to send her away. She keeps calling after us, they said. I have been sent, Jesus replied, to no one except the lost sheep of Israel. But all this time the woman came and bending low before Him said, Master, help me. It is not fair, Jesus replied, to take the children's food and throw it to dogs. Yes, Master, she said, for dogs do feed on the scraps that fall from their owners' table. Your faith is great, was His reply to the woman. It shall be as you wish. And her daughter was cured that very moment.

The Caste Question

Snobbishness and provincialism create caste. If we knew all we would love all. Israel's contempt for the heathen, which the disciples shared, was really due in good part to ignorance, even as is the supercilious attitude of this western continent towards two thirds of the human race. There are multitudes of men who despite the laymen's movement [illegible] I think that the best [illegible] is to make them like ourselves. That we might have taught [illegible] from them never enters [illegible] their heads.

[illegible] that is exactly the lesson Jesus was trying to teach His bungling disciples. He wanted them to see [illegible] faith that [illegible] this poor woman who was outside of the [illegible] and Japan and China and India and Africa are putting to shame many a professing Christian in America today. [illegible] more perfectly than we. We have advanced quite a way into the spirit [illegible] that [illegible] spiritual perception and spiritual longing in hearts that are not included in any Christian fold.

Dear humble [illegible] for whom was [illegible] assumption [illegible] such as [illegible] had never learned [illegible] Jesus. The woman asked [illegible] crumbs which those who had plenty of bread [illegible] [illegible]

The World Movement

[illegible] had been [illegible] Jesus [illegible] terms of the world. Only dimly after nineteen centuries are we beginning to glimpse the imperial conception of Christ.

For the love of God is broader than the measure of man's mind,
And the heart of the Eternal is most wonderfully kind.

In his notable Berlin address a few days ago upon The World Movement Mr Roosevelt well said: Frowning or hopeful, every man of leadership in any line of thought or effort must now look beyond the limits of his own country. Continuing he remarked: The play of new forces is as evident in the moral and spiritual world as in the world of mind and body. Again: Moreover the things of the spirit are even more important than the things of the body. There has never been greater need of a high and fine religious spirit than at the present time.

Of course all this expanding conception of world citizenship has been a commonplace of the modern pulpit and missionary platform. It is good to hear it from the lips of a statesman on a university rostrum. To the world movement [illegible] spell brotherhood learned at the feet of the gentle Teacher who led His own band of followers through beyond the borders of their native land.

The Berlin Mob's Cry

It does look as if [illegible] Nazareth is coming to His own. His name shines marvelously bright every year. Most great names grow dim with the passing of time. When a monument [illegible] unveiled in Washington on account [illegible] English [illegible] friend of America [illegible] newspapers had to explain who [illegible] was and why he was given a monument. Mankind has short memories. The world [illegible] with neglected [illegible] cemeteries are one [illegible] of sights everywhere. In China the huge gray monuments [illegible] fall into decrepitude [illegible] neglected monuments [illegible] kings are fast crumbling [illegible] change.

Time which [illegible] only reveals [illegible] Such episode [illegible]

DETROIT FIGURES IN PROPOSITION

$10,000 Is Offered by City and Carmichael

Judge Rathmell Quashes the Graft Indictments—Taft Will Attend Marietta Jubilee—Cincinnati Girl Drowns in Cistern—Auto Kills Columbus Lad—Nichols Gets Back His Old Job—Ohio News.

Toledo, O, June 7.—Owing to the [illegible] inability of Toledo promoters to finance their part of the project it is reported that the [illegible] flight by Glenn Curtiss from Cleveland to Put-in-Bay and return for $10,000 will probably [illegible] Otto Carmichael and [illegible] association of Detroit have offered $5,000 providing the [illegible] is made to that city and negotiations are now pending with that end in view.

Quashes Graft Indictments

Columbus, O, June 7.—Judge Rathmell quashed the indictment against George [illegible] Wood, George I. Ruggles and John I. Paine in which they were charged with grafting in purchase of statehouse supplies. There are [illegible] other indictments against Wood for presenting false bills, all being joint indictments with Ruggles and John I. Paine.

Taft to Be at Marietta

Marietta, O, June 7.—President Taft will attend the diamond jubilee of Marietta college here June 16. Acceptance of the invitation was given by the president to a committee at Ada. Other guests will be Governor Harmon, Senator Elkins, Dr. Albert Shaw, Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus and Charles G. Dawes.

Girl Drowns In Cistern

Cincinnati, O, June 7.—When the wooden top of a long forgotten cistern gave way Edith [illegible] and William [illegible] dropped into it and the former was drowned. August Loese, a passerby, jumped into the cistern and kept the boy's head above water and although taken with the cramps saved the child's life.

Auto Kills Columbus Lad

Columbus, O, June 7.—Herbert Anderson, 7, was instantly killed by being run over by an automobile. He jumped from the rear of a wagon and started to cross the street when he was knocked down by the automobile, one wheel of which passed over his head, crushing the skull and causing instant death.

Nichols Gets Old Job

Columbus, O, June 7.—L. S. Nichols, formerly editor of the Wapakoneta Democrat, has been appointed chief clerk in the office of the state supervisor of printing by L. A. Crawford, the new supervisor. Nichols was chief clerk under State Printer Johnson several years ago.

STORY WRITER PASSES AWAY

Sydney Porter Dies in New York Hospital

KNOWN TO MAGAZINE READERS AS O HENRY

His Works Are Welcomed by the Publishers

Master of English Composition and Dramatic Literature—Could Write a Tale in Irreproachable English and Make Slang Really Funny—His Stories Attract Attention in 1905 in Book Form

New York, June 6.—Sidney Porter, one of the most popular short story writers in America, under the name of O. Henry, died at the Polyclinic hospital. He had suffered for several years from a complication of diseases, of which cirrhosis of the liver was the most dangerous [illegible]. His physician, Dr. Charles Russell Hancock, realized when he sent Porter to the hospital on Friday last that there was practically no hope of his recovery.

For the past eight years few contributors to the magazines have been more welcomed by publishers than O. Henry. He was one of the masters of short story writing in this country, possessing a gift of fine humor as well as an ability for dramatic narration. Although he could write tales in irreproachable English he was one of the few who could make slang really funny. He had too a knack of coining slang words and slang phrases that stuck in the mind and became a part of our literary language.

It was while he was in New Orleans some 10 years ago that he adopted the name of "O. Henry," a nom de plume which seemed somehow to fit his works perfectly. In later years there were comparatively few people who knew what his real name was.

A collection of his stories which had attracted attention was published in book form in 1905 under the title "Cabbages and Kings." "The Four Million" came out next year, "The Trimmed Lamp" in 190[illegible] and "The Heart of the West" toward the end of the same year. The most recent of his stories which attracted attention were in a series which O. Henry called "[illegible] Nights Entertainment."

A Whimsical Smile

New York, June 6.—The funeral of William Sidney Porter, better known as O. Henry, and conceded to be the best short story writer of the present generation, will be held from the Little Church Around the Corner tomorrow morning and the body will be shipped to his former home at Asheville, North Carolina, for burial.

Just before he died Porter turned toward the nurse at his bedside and with a whimsical smile said:

"Put the pillows up higher. I don't want to go home in the dark."

The end came very quietly yesterday, the immediate cause being heart failure following an operation for cirrhosis of the liver.

PRESIDENT WARNS AGAINST SOCIALISM

Declares It Is America's One Big Problem

Jackson, Mich., June [illegible].—President Taft proclaimed Socialism as the great problem that confronts the American people, the issue that is soon to come and that must be skillfully met. By its history, he declared, the Republican party had shown itself capable of dealing with the great questions effectively and wisely, and he predicted that the American people must soon determine whether it shall trust the same party with the solution of that problem, than which there have [illegible] had no greater in the history of the country.

The president disclaimed any purpose of making a partisan address, but the occasion of his visit here was the unveiling of a bronze tablet commemorating the organization of the Republican party under the oaks in 1854, and he could not altogether refrain from a comparison of the party with its opponent, which was not altogether favorable to the opponents. He also declared that popular government must be a government of parties, and in this connection there was just a passing hint at insurgency.

THE DIPLOMA LONG DELAYED

Canal Fulton High School Honors School Commissioner

Columbus, O, June [illegible].—Tonight at Canal Fulton, O., State School Commissioner J. W. Zeller will receive a diploma from the local high school and will be valedictorian of the class of 1910. Nearly half a century ago Mr. Zeller completed the course of his education in the Canal Fulton high school, but in those days high school commencements were an unknown quantity in that part of the country and he was forced to begin the battle of life without the aid of the precious white parchment neatly tied with blue baby ribbon.

He has always been living in fear and trembling lest some unfeeling school board, when considering him for the superintendency, would take a notion to call upon him for his high school diploma, and is taking this occasion to secure the coveted diploma.

Was Methuselah Mistaken?

Perhaps the scientists will tell us [illegible] soon that they have discovered the germ that prompts very old people to exaggerate their ages. To this burrowing microbe will be charged the claims of all the more recent George Washington coachmen and [illegible] and happy bootblacks who claimed to have seen Napoleon Bonaparte. [illegible] already [illegible] that no man has ever lived [illegible] 100 years and that there is no authentic record that the [illegible] was ever added to this unusual limit. [illegible] the scientists [illegible] with the father [illegible] citizen who was widely known as the oldest man in the country. [illegible] was nearly [illegible] years old. [illegible] had nothing [illegible] to prove [illegible] the only man [illegible] to the conclusion that the old man was actually ninety-two years and eleven months old at the time of his death and that the additional years were supplied by imagination.

It may seem cruel to deprive a centenarian of the [illegible] of his only claim to fame, but science is inexorable and [illegible] knows no sentimental weakness. Without doubt the sociologist will see in this tendency to age exaggeration a peculiar form of mendacity, strengthened by garrulity and enhanced by public attention.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

OUR HOUSEHOLD WASTE

The protest against the higher price of milk in Boston and other New England cities has [illegible] attention to a needless multiplication of [illegible]. The cost of distribution [illegible] must be assumed, must fall upon the ultimate consumer. The present method [illegible] uneconomical distribution. Mr. [illegible] introduced [illegible] marketing of petroleum. An observer may see a dozen milk wagons, each with a driver and a boy, pass through the same street within an hour; each will deliver milk at a few houses, seldom adjacent, for it appears a fact not readily explained that rarely do two next door neighbors, or even two families in one tenement or apartment house, buy milk of the same dealer.

It would be an obvious advantage to the milkman if he could concentrate his customers within one neighborhood. Instead he supplies families scattered through long routes, when his stock might be disposed of within a few blocks if his customers were contiguous. These dealers are industrious and accommodating, but their labors are misdirected and scattered. It has been said that the most expensive part of the transportation of farm produce is to the railway station, but in the case of milk the needless cost would seem to be [illegible] of the journey. Here is an example of competition that is wasteful, that must fall as it is upon the consumer and that appears to be of no benefit to any one. What is needed is not a trust, but some semblance of system that would prove a practical benefit to every housewife and worker in the community.—Washington Post.

NEW YORKERS PROUD OF THEIR RECKLESSNESS

New York, June [illegible].—Within the next two weeks the contractor promises to have destroyed the Gillender building, a twenty-two story structure that has stood at Wall and Nassau streets for a few years. This building is being demolished to make way for a forty-two story building. The contractor started the work of tearing down the Gillender building May 1, and on June 1 but seven stories remain. These will have been removed in two weeks, making a remarkable record in the contractors' art. Wall street is little more than an alley, and to remove the steel girders, brick and stone without stopping traffic has been a problem that was overcome by building a roof over the sidewalk. The destroying of a twenty-two story skyscraper because it was not high enough has been a seventh wonder to New Yorkers, who take special pride in showing visitors one more of the recklessness of Manhattan.

Here's the Limit

We don't mind hooking her waist, looking to see if her white skirts show and if her hat is on straight, we don't mind pinning up a veil now and then and cleaning the mud off her rubbers, but when it comes to holding one end of a store switch while she braids it we think the limit has been reached and it's time for us to assert our independence.—Detroit Free Press.

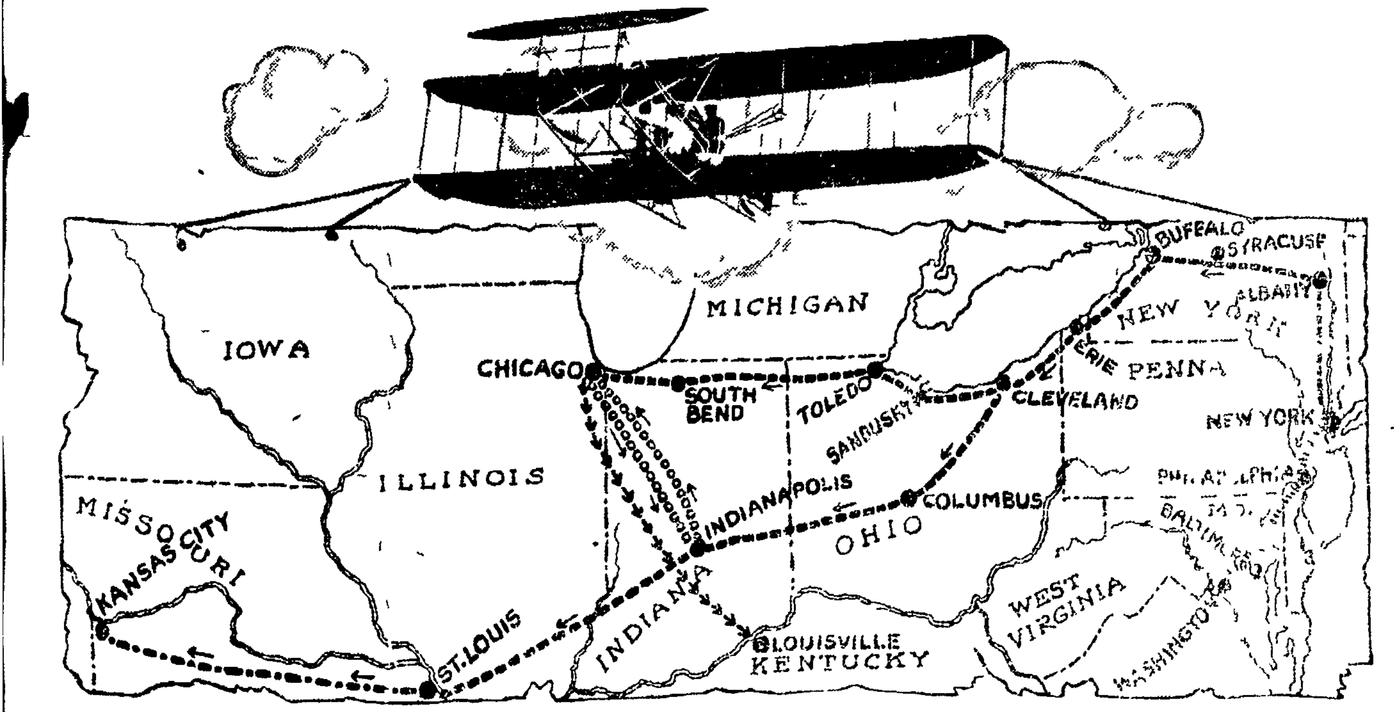
THE MAN BIRD HAS THE UNITED STATES IN HIS GRIP AND IS DUE TO CHANGE MAP



New York, June 6.—For the next two months the United States is due to see more flying machines than during the flitting of Halley's comet, for [illegible] events are to be dotted with air fleets. Throughout the country cities are offering prizes for flights in biplanes and planes of most every kind of aircraft that will keep going. The New York to St. Louis flight [illegible] $30,000 comes first in importance. The New York to Chicago flight with a prize of $25,000 comes second. Then St. Louis and Kansas City are working together for a round trip flight, while Louisville and Chicago are up and bidding for a trial. Washington is raising $[illegible] between the capital, Baltimore, Philadelphia and return. Indianapolis wants a flight from the capital of Indiana to Chicago and return. The entire country seems to be in the grip of the airmen. In New York C. K. Hamilton is doing sensation flights with his machine, [illegible] the length of his machine [illegible] and daily doing marvelous tricks that cause the crowds to gasp in wonderment. Glenn H. Curtiss has decided that the New York–Chicago trip is possible and has selected a route that will skirt Lake Erie.

CELEBRATION OF GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Allen Received Saturday Night.

AT THEIR HOME ON EAST CENTER STREET

Their Friends Call Upon Them After 8 O'Clock—A Family Dinner Was Served Sunday—The Home Is Handsomely Decorated for the Reception Saturday Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E G. Allen received several hundred friends at their beautiful home on east Center street, after 8 o'clock Saturday evening, the occasion being the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, which fell on Sunday.

The callers were met at the door by the two grandsons of the bride and groom, Robert and Paul Allen, and a nephew, Leslie Baker, of Brooklyn, New York. Mr. and Mrs Allen received their friends in the front parlor, which was transformed into a bower of beauty with American Beauty roses and pink and white carnations. In the receiving line with them were Mrs. Allen's sister, Mrs. E. Copeland, of Chariton, Iowa; a brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baker, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nichols, of St. Louis; Mrs. Sarah Catheart, of Cleveland; Mrs. Louis Phillips, of Springfield, and Mr. E. T. Baker, of Brooklyn, New York, a brother.

Mrs. Allen, with her beautiful silvered hair and smiling face, gowned in a handsome creation of grey crepe de chine with silver trimmings, did not look a bride of fifty years as she stood beside her husband and received friends, many of whom were friends of her girlhood days.

After greeting their host and hostess and congratulating them on their long and happy married life, the company was ushered into the dining-room, which was decorated in the bridal colors of yellow and white. Southern ivy was draped about the room and on the table from which an elegant buffet luncheon was served, a large basket of moss and flor-de-lis, tied with yellow ribbons, was used as a centerpiece. Candles in pretty candlesticks lent a soft glow to the room.

Mrs. J. F. McNeal and Mrs. Frank R. Salter presided at the coffee urn, while Mrs. Isabelle Norris and Mrs. Daniel Yake served ices. Tiny gold bells tied with tulle were given as favors.

In the living-room peonies and irises made a pretty decoration with drapings of greenery. In the hall, where Mrs. C. E. Sargent and Mrs Genevera Johnstone-Bishop presided at the punch bowl, red roses were used to good effect, the punch bowl being almost entirely hidden in a cluster of the flowers.

The other assistants in entertaining throughout the various rooms were the sons and daughters-in-law of the honored couple. They were Mr. and Mrs. C H. Allen, of Paulding; Mr. and Mrs Herbert Allen, of Poplarville, Mississippi; Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Allen, of Bonita, Louisiana, and Mr. and Mrs. Tracy R. Allen.

During the evening Mrs. Genevra-Johnstone-Bishop sang several selections, accompanied on the piano by Miss Marguerite Krause. Among the songs were "Coming Thro' the Rye" and "Auld Lang Syne." Miss Sadamae Allen, the granddaughter, sang a wedding song, "Beloved, It Is Morn," by Florence Awyward. Both Mrs. Bishop and Miss Allen's songs were beautifully sung.

The gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Allen were numerous and beautiful. They also received many letters and telegrams of congratulation.

Sunday a family dinner was enjoyed at 1 o'clock at the Allen home by the immediate families of the children and the out-of-town relatives. Covers were laid for twenty-six, the company finding their places by place-cards consisting of two hearts joined together and bearing the photographs of the bridal couple, with the dates 1860-1910 in gilt. The table decorations consisted of bouquets of yellow roses. A menu of four courses was served.

MR. AND MRS. ALLEN WERE MARRIED HALF A CENTURY, SUNDAY, JUNE 5

MRS. E. G. ALLEN.

MR. E. G. ALLEN.

Mrs. C. E. Baker, of Chicago, gave an original toast to the bride and groom, as follows

Here's to this couple so gray, but so gay,
Here's to this hour of this wonderful day,
Here's to "Gil" Allen and here's to his wife,
Let us do honor to their beautiful life.
Here's to the woman and here's to the man,
Here's to the race so worthily run
They've worked and they've toiled,
They've never been clods,
Now they've a kingdom in which they're gods
Surrounded with children, they also with theirs,
To health and to honor, to happines heirs.
Then drink to the present, Oh, care for it most,
The future's a vision, the past is a ghost.
Trust not the vision, fear not the ghost,
Drink once to us all and twice to our hosts.

After this toast C. H. Allen, of Paulding, the oldest son, spoke of the changes that have come in the family circle in the past fifty years, and closed his remarks by reading an original poem composed by Mr Lloyd Atwell, of Paulding, an old friend of the family, who was unable to be present. It follows:

Just think; fifty years ago, this day,
We've often heard our good father say;
Mother and I were made partners for life.
Taking me her husband and I her for wife.

As we celebrate around this full board.
And they look back over the happy past road;
May we, their children, like dutiful sons,
Continue to cherish them as long as life runs.

Here's to you, father and mother, most dear,
Your children and theirs, continued good cheer:
As to the fifty golden ones, is added each year,
May our love continue to be found more dear.

In the afternoon and evening a number of friends called.

Among those from out of town here to attend the celebration of the golden wedding were:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard Allen and children, Howard, Loren, Miss Sadamae and Percy, the latter a student of Hamilton college, at Clinton, New York, who live at Paulding, Mr and Mrs. Herbert Edgar Allen and son, Paul, of Poplarville, Mississippi, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilman Allen and two sons, Robert and Edgar, of Bonita, Louisiana; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baker, of Chicago; Elwood Baker and son, Leslie, of Brooklyn, New York; Mrs. Elijah Copeland, of Chariton, Iowa; Mrs. Sarah Cathcarp, of Cleveland, and her daughter, Mrs Elizabeth Phillips, of Springfield, and Mr and Mrs. Walter Nichol, of St. Louis

THE GHOST COMES TWO DOLLARS EXTRA

Louis Goldberg Has Own Ideas About Renting.

RENTERS MUST WHACK UP FOR CHOICE GHOST

If They Want Spiritualistic Proposition His House Rents for Ten Dollars, but Plain House Goes at Eight—Stories of Haunted House on Scranton Avenue.

"For Rent, $10 with ghost. $8 without." This is the substance of a novel sign which has been hanging on the front of a house on Scranton avenue The house is the property of Louis Goldberg, and the sign was placed on it by his agents, Bryant & Stoll, at his request.

Nighbors and a number of people who have lived in the house during the past year state that the house is haunted. A family by the name of Clark was the last to occupy the house, and both Mr. and Mrs. Clark claim that, in the night time, they could see the form of a woman appear at the foot of the bed. One night, when Mrs. Clark was alone, she became so frightened from her hallucination that she ran from the house in her night robe and sought shelter at the home of a neighbor.

Neighbors claim that they have seen lights in the house at various hours of the night, and when the members of the family were not at home.

Occupants of the house previous to the Clark family tell similar stories During the past year, different families have moved into the house, but left after a short stay as a result of the stories of the house being haunted It was this that prompted the owner of the property to place the novel sign on the residence, and it has just been rented, the new tenants accepting the terms without the ghost

CONGRATULATED BY PRESIDENT TAFT

Great Honor Comes to a Young Woman of Marion,

WHO GIVES READING BEFORE PRESIDENT

Miss Anna Marie Howard, the Elocutionist, Is Invited To Give a Reading at the Smith Luncheon to Taft. At Its Conclusion She Is Warmly Praised by the President.

To have the honor to be congratulated in one's chosen profession by the president of the United States is one coveted by many and enjoyed by few Such an honor was conferred on Miss Anna Marie Howard, the local talented elocutionist, at Ada, Friday

Miss Howard accepted an invitation from H S. Lehr, founder of the Ohio Northern university, to be a guest at his home during commencement week With the Lehrs she was a guest at the luncheon given by Dr and Mrs A E Smith in honor of President Taft At the conclusion of the luncheon and just prior to the reception of the members of the press by the president, Miss Howard experienced the happiest moment of her life in being called upon to give a reading for the pleasure of the assembled company. Miss Howard in a most pleasing manner recited, "I Can't Do the Sum." She was accompanied by Miss Katherine Edwards, who is also well known in this city At the conclusion of the reading Miss Howard was heartily congratulated by President Taft, who took her by the hand and spoke words of praise for her ability He asked her from what city she hailed and she proudly told him Marion.

COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL DREAM ENDS

That, at Least, Is View of Superintendent Bader,

IN CHARGE OF THE COUNTY INFIRMARY

Dr. C. O. Probst, of Columbus Secretary of the State Board of Health, Has Been Informed Not To Come Here To Look Over Proposed Site for Hospital.

After the formulation of plans to build a tuberculosis hospital at the infirmary farm, probabilities now are that the hospital will not be erected.

Dr. C O Probst, of Columbus, secretary of the state board of health, was to have been here two weeks ago to view the proposed site, but he was informed not to come.

"I guess it's fizzled out," said Infirmary Superintendent Samuel Bader, Friday when asked about the hospital project

"Are the county commissioners opposing it?" the infirmary superintendent was asked He replied:

"I don't know. You can't get them out here."

Commissioner Holverstott is not in favor of building a hospital of the kind in Marion county. He favors the erection of a tri-county hospital, but does not want it built in this county. He argues that it would be considerably cheaper to maintain a tuberculosis hospital if three counties supported it and would prefer that it be located outside of Marion county, because, he claims, this county can not furnish a suitable location.

The commissioners of Morrow and Crawford counties are said to be opposed to a tri-county hospital.

Infirmary Superintendent Bader is very much disappointed over the turn the hospital project has taken. He is enthusiastically in favor of this county constructing a tuberculosis hospital of its own and declares that "something of the kind is sorely needed." He claims that the grove on the infirmary farm is an ideal spot for its location.
